SPENDS BIRTHDAY

Completes 750-Mile Hop
From Miami in Eight

Belize, British Honduras, February 4.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh tonight was the welcome guest of this colony, to which he was the first to introduce airplane travel little more than a year ago. At the close of his twenty-seventh birthday anniversary he had flown successfully the first 750-mile leg of the new air mail route which is to link the United States with the Canal Zone by way of Cuba and Central America.

At almost the exact moment he was expected he brought his Sikorsky amphibian plane down to a smooth landing on the harbor waters at 2:55 p. m. (3:55 eastern standard time). He had left Miami, Fla., at 6:08 o'clock this morning and landed at Havana at 8:21 o'clock. After a stop of one hour and four minutes for refueling, he was on his way again.

He sleeps here tonight and tomorrow will wing his way southward to Managua, Nicaragua. The last stage is through Costa Rica to Panama and the Canal Zone.

Result of Good Will.
The route he inaugurated today is regarded as the direct outcome of the good will flight of the young aviator a year ago. He was nearing the end of that air cruise around the Caribbean when he celebrated his twenty-third birthday anniversary by flying from San Juan, Porto Rico, to Santo Domingo. Since that day regular air routes have been established from Havana eastward through the islands and now the man who first demonstrated the feasibility has inaugurated the longer route to the west and south.

In preparation for his landing here today more than 20 men had been working under a native contractor since Thursday building a wooden ramp into the water. It was completed this morning. Twenty feet wide, of British Honduras pine, it extends 175 feet from shore into the waters so that the wheels of the amphibian plane touched it at a depth of four feet. At the head of the ramp on the beach a platform 20 feet square.

Plane Miles in Mud.
Although Colonel Lindbergh landed the airplane gracefully on the water it overran the end of the ramp and its wheels sunk to the axle in mud. Neither passengers nor plane were injured.

As great a crowd as watched his epoch-making landing a year ago was assembled today so early that they

SLIGHT ATTACK OF INDIGESTION

Paris, February 4.—(AP)—Marshal Ferdinand Foch tonight suffered a slight attack of indigestion, in addition to his other troubles. Dr. Maurice Heitz-Boyer was summoned hurriedly at 11:30. He was able to relieve the old soldier in a short time and soon left the house. He explained that milk, which the marshal had taken earlier in the evening, had appeared to have disagreed with him. It was understood that the marshal's condition otherwise was unchanged from the early evening when his physicians stated that the congestion of the lung, due to influenza, had followed a normal course since it first was noted several days ago. This illness came upon him just as he was recovering from heart and kidney troubles.

Philippine Governor
Slated Secretary of State,

Wilbur Interior Head.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The whirl of cabinet gossip which agitates the emotions of the capital while Hoover lingers in Florida turned today a variety of circumstantial predictions to the effect that Henry L. Stimson, Harlan F. Stone, and Ray Lyman Wilbur would sit in the new official family after March 4, and that William M. Jardine would not.

Of course, all of these prognostications lacked official confirmation. They were passed about in high places, however, with that stamp of semi-official assurance which sometimes in the past has turned out to be genuine, and sometimes has proved entirely undependable. At any rate, they gave Washington one of its most active days of wondering.

Stone to Quit Bench.
A report that Secretary Jardine would step out as head of the agriculture department attracted added attention because it was directly opposite to predictions which have been made. It is known that Mr. Hoover thinks well of Jardine, whose appointment to the present cabinet he favored. On the other hand, the agriculture secretary has been urged by some of his friends to try his personal fortunes in private business. He has indicated that he is inclined to do so, and he is said to be seriously considering them. Some officials believe a definite statement of his intentions may appear in a few days, but the secretary himself would not comment today.

A more elaborate story was passed about regarding the possibility that Justice Stone would step down from the supreme court to take the attorney-generalship again which he relinquished when President Coolidge nominated him for the bench.

Wilbur for Interior.
Those who made this prediction declared it was a part of Mr. Hoover's plans to make prohibition enforcement more effective. They added that Curtis D. Wilbur, the present secretary of the navy, was under consideration for the supreme court vacancy to be created by Justice Stone's predicted resignation, and that the navy secretary's brother, Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, would restore the family cabinet percentage by becoming secretary of the interior.

Although recently the capital has heard "authoritatively" that various states were likely to be secretary of state, officials generally received with great interest the report that Henry L. Stimson, now governor-general of the Philippines, was slated after all to take the state portfolio. Few men are better known around the capital than Stimson, who has kept up a host of friendships cemented when he was Taft's secretary of war.

PUBLIC HEARING ON DECATUR ST.
NAME IS CALLED

The name of Decatur street will remain unchanged, at least for the present, following action of city council Monday afternoon in referring back to the streets committee for a public hearing a proposal to change the name to East Marietta street.

Councilman action to this effect followed objections by several members of city council to the proposal and the filing of objections by several property holders on Marietta street. Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, leader of opposition to the proposed change, moved to refer the paper to the planning commission but withdrew it when he was certain it would go to the streets committee, of which he is a member.

Representative-Elect
Bowden To Introduce
Bill in Assembly for Immediate Road Money.

TO DISCOUNT STATE HIGHWAY REVENUE

Measure Involves Selling
Part of State Income for Five-Year Period To Come.

Representative-elect J. E. T. Bowden, of Ware county, Monday announced that he would introduce a bill in the house when the general assembly convenes in June to provide $30,000,000 for financing state road construction.

The plan, which would make the money available as soon as the legislature adjourns, contemplates the state selling its anticipated revenue from gasoline and oil taxes and from the sale of automobile license tags for a period of five years, Mr. Bowden stated.

At $4,000,000 a year this would net the state $20,000,000. Added to this $10,000,000 in federal aid money would bring the total up to $30,000,000. This sum would build 1,000 miles of paved roads, which would connect all present cross-state highways, eliminate the bad stretches of roads now existing on these highways and would expedite the road-building plan by at least three years, according to Mr. Bowden.

"This plan would take the place of a bond issue and would meet with support from both pro-bond and anti-bond factions," Mr. Bowden said. "To issue bonds would require at least two years, as the people would not be able to vote on a bond issue until the November election in 1930. A bond issue would require a two-third vote in both houses before it could be submitted. The present plan would require only a majority of a quorum."

Mr. Bowden said the anticipated revenue from the oil and gas taxes and the license tag receipts would be sold in just the same manner as the Western and Atlantic railroad debentures were sold several years ago.

"This would provide $30,000,000 to carry out the present road-building plan, and this would be sufficient," Mr. Bowden said. "If a bond issue of $75,000,000 were voted, a large part of the money would have to be turned over to counties in the state which have claims against such money, this total amounting roughly to $21,000,000."

Mr. Bowden said the revenue of these departments annually will increase from year to year, and he expressed the opinion that the entire $20,000,000 could be paid back within four years.

"I expect to introduce a bill making these provisions soon after the legislative meets," he said.

Mr. Bowden said the discount of the revenues would not amount to as much as the interest on the bonds when it is taken into consideration that the money obtained on the debentures is to be paid back each year as the tax from the gasoline and oil tax and the licenses is received.

Goodyear Rubber Company Plans $600,000 for Mill Additions and 86
New Houses for Workers

Cedartown, Ga., February 4.—(Special)—C. C. Slusser, vice president of the Goodyear Rubber company, of Akron, Ohio, will arrive here Friday to meet with the city council and take action on the proposed expansion of the Goodyear's Clearwater mills at Cedartown.

It is understood that the Goodyear company proposes to add 20,000 spindles to the equipment of the local mills and to build 86 additional houses. Cost of the proposed expansion will involve approximately $600,000, it is said.

The company's proposal is contingent only upon agreement by the Cedartown council to place sidewalks, sewerage pipes and lights in the new proposed "village." It will be adjacent to the 200 houses, which with the mill and office buildings, comprise the present Goodyear Clearwater mills village.

The mayor and council, it is said, are prepared to give immediate assurance that the company's conditions will be met and that work will be started at once on the requested improvements.

The Goodyear Clearwater Mills now operate 30,000 spindles and with the addition of 20,000 more, the mills will have a capacity of 100,000 spindles operating on a day and night basis.

Chicago, February 4.—(AP)—Colonel Robert W. Stewart said it was with stocks and cash today in his fight with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to retain his position as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

At the conclusion of a brief meeting Colonel Stewart and the board of directors supporting him in his battle with the Rockefeller interests announced a stock dividend of 50 per cent, a regular cash dividend of 62 1/2 cents a share and an extra cash dividend of 50 cents a share.

The stock dividend, amounting to one-half share of stock for each of the nearly 9,250,000 whole shares outstanding, will be paid to stockholders of record February 16 and the extra stock will participate in the cash dividends to be paid March 15, one week after the annual stockholders' meeting, to stockholders of record February 16.

No Vote in March.
The new stock, however, cannot be voted at the stockholders' meeting March 7 when the fight between Colonel Stewart and Mr. Rockefeller will be decided, as the books for the stockholders' meeting close tomorrow, 11 days before the stock dividend becomes payable.

Except for the brief announcement of the action of the directors, no comment was forthcoming on the big melon in stock and money, either from Colonel Stewart or his supporters, all apparently being inclined to allow the action to speak for itself.

The cash dividend on the stock outstanding and the 50 per cent stock dividend participating will amount to more than $15,000,000. The stock dividend, when paid, will add to the 9,250,000 shares of stock owned by the 15,000,000 shares of $25 par value authorized.

At present market values, the 4,000,000 shares of stock authorized by today's stock dividend would have a value of around $300,000,000 or about $115,000,000 at par.

Books Close Today.
While today's stock and cash dividend would amount to a large total, it does not approach some of the stock dividends of the past. In May, 1912, a 2,000 per cent stock dividend was declared and in December, 1920, when the stock was reduced from $100 to $25 a share, a stock dividend of 150 per cent was declared, followed by a 200 per cent stock dividend.

Coolidge Has
Only a Month
Of Term Left

Packers Are Busy Crating
Personal Belongings of President.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—One month from tonight President Coolidge, after years in public office, will have the same security as the average citizen. The first lady's vast army of private citizens, in front of the white house, along Pennsylvania avenue, workmen are already busy crating the president's personal belongings, which the parade in honor of the inauguration of his successor will be reviewed, furnishing for the chief executive a constant reminder of his retirement from office is rapidly approaching.

And inside the executive mansion, preparations are being made for moving the Coolidge household goods. When Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge traveled to Northampton, Mass., to vote last October, they took with them a large number of articles, many of which they expected to have no use during the winter months, but now everything that is their own property is being prepared for shipment.

The packing is being done by the household staff of the white house, with Mrs. Coolidge herself actively participating. The first lady has been going over the inventory of the Coolidge effects in detail and securing articles of a more fragile nature, such as the president's security, to be packed in the jolts of transportation.

There has been no official indication regarding what Mrs. Coolidge intends to do after March 4. Rumor has followed rumor and newspaper reports have had him contemplating many of the executive positions in huge corporations to college presidencies. But when these stories have been brought to his attention, the chief executive has merely shaken his head, although once he took occasion to deny them as a lot.

Those who are in touch with white house affairs are unanimously of the opinion that for a few weeks at least, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will go into retirement at their home in Northampton. This is the only report regarding his future activities that Mrs. Coolidge has not taken occasion to deny. A direct inquiry produced the answer that the president considered it the "natural" thing to do.

Proposal To Appropriate
$26,250 for Payment on Tract Finally Is Sent to Finance Committee.

Heated verbal clashes marked efforts of the tenth ward delegation in city council Monday afternoon to force through an appropriation of $26,250 for payment on the Perkerston tract, now known as the L. N. Ragdale park.

Although proponents of the paper showed decided strength, they were unable to force a vote on the issue and it finally was referred to the finance committee for action, following an attempted filibuster by opponents who made futile efforts to have it ruled out of order.

Override City Attorney.
Opponents of the proposition tried twice to have the measure outlawed by obtaining rulings from the city attorney that the measure was illegal. They were sustained by the city attorney, but once Mayor Pro Tem Robert E. Pennington ruled it in order, the proposition was taken up.

Each time council sustained the presiding officer and ruled the paper before the house for consideration.

Alderman Everett Milligan and Councilman Nelson Spratt and W. Garland Cooper were joint authors of the proposal, which provided that the $26,250 should be taken from anticipations of tax receipts.

Representation of the measure was the signal for the storm which broke in several quarters of the council chamber.

Berman Hits Proposal.
Councilman Joseph Berman, of the fourth ward, opened fire on the paper, declaring there was no money to spend, and that the measure was a "big rip-off."

Allderman Robert E. Baum, of the sixth ward, declared that the measure was a "big rip-off."

The 42-acre tract was purchased from the Perkerston heirs for $400,000. Fullon county paid $20,000 and no other money has been expended.

Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward and chairman of the parks committee, joined forces with the tenth ward delegation as the staunchest supporters of the measure.

He declared that the city should live up to its moral obligations and ended a speech in behalf of the proposal by declaring "I will never sit in this body if it fails to live up to its agreement in this matter."

Councilman Cooper charged that the finance committee had "ignored the park in making up its agreement, and in the end it was a big rip-off."

At the appointed hour the governor had received no word from Buckley. He sent his message to the house promptly at 7 o'clock and immediately after it was read Majority Leader Arthur Hamilton introduced a resolution calling for appointment of a committee to investigate Buckley's conviction with a view to bringing impeachment proceedings. The resolution was adopted unanimously without debate.

AMERICAN YOUTH
SENTENCED TO DIE
FOR BRITISH CRIME

Liverpool, England, February 4.—(United News)—Joseph Reginald W. Clarke, 21, former Princeton university student, was sentenced to death today for the murder of Miss Alice Fontaine, 47, whose daughter was believed to have been a victim of Clarke's hypnotic powers.

Clarke, who met his sentence calmly within five minutes after he had pleaded guilty, was known as "the boy with a hundred sweethearts."

The youth often boasted of the way he "hypnotized" his sweethearts and forced them to do anything he wished. He was a boarder at Mrs. Fontaine's house and confessed that he strangled her after an argument over money which apparently had been given him by the daughter.

Clarke visited his mother in Virginia five years ago and after completing his high school education there entered Princeton. He was said to have learned his "black art" in the United States.

He curiously thanked the judge who sentenced him to die on the gallows. Clarke lived at Kings Lynn.

Confessed Slayer Asks
Parole; Accuses Husband
Of Crime

More than four years after she confessed murder and accepted a life prison term, Mrs. Nora E. Duren brought a petition for parole in which she set out that she is innocent, it was revealed by the state prison commission Monday. Mrs. Duren said in her petition that her plea of guilty was actuated by fear of her husband, George L. Duren, whom she now accuses of committing the crime.

Mrs. Duren, according to the record of the case, was convicted in Ware county superior court on her own statement of the murder of Ira James, who was killed in a small store operated by the Durens at Hopkins. Defense attorneys, in subsequent reports in the case, declared they had remonstrated with Mrs. Duren in efforts to get her to "tell the truth."

She maintained that she did not believe her husband was guilty, but that she was shielding someone else. She at that time stoutly refused to say other than that she had committed the deed.

State to Oppose Parole.
Solicitor-General Spencer, of the Ware superior court, said in her own statement of the murder of Ira James, who was killed in a small store operated by the Durens at Hopkins. Defense attorneys, in subsequent reports in the case, declared they had remonstrated with Mrs. Duren in efforts to get her to "tell the truth."

The document also contained the statement that the petitioner understood that Duren had secured a divorce from her.

Concluding her petition, the woman said: "I can no longer bear it that my children be turned against me, and that he (Duren) be free to enjoy life while I suffer for a crime of which I am innocent."

"After thinking over all the things he has done to hurt rather than help me, and feeling that I have borne the burden of his crime long enough I have decided to tell the truth."

Solicitor to Fight Plea for Clemency.
Waycross, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Solicitor-General Allen B. Spencer, of the Ware circuit court, in which Mrs. Nora E. Duren was convicted of the murder of Ira James, announced tonight that he would appear personally before the parole board to oppose the woman's plea for clemency.

He said he had no definite knowledge of the whereabouts of George L. Duren, whom his wife had divorced. Mrs. Duren in his files saying he was "somewhere in Florida."

He expressed complete disbelief of the allegations set up by Mrs. Duren.

President Coolidge lost on this same issue in the house last year. Recently it was made known at the white house that if the time limitation clause were eliminated and the chief executive were given a free hand over the naval program, he would send recommendations for several of the cruisers at once.

But the senate stood by the provision, requiring that work on five of the cruisers shall be started during each of the next three fiscal years, beginning with this year, which ends July 1. As a result of this vote it is possible the measure may be approved without material change as it was passed a year ago by the house. If this should be the case, it will be possible to rush the bill to the white house without a conference if the house of representatives should accept a few minor amendments.

After it had refused to strike out the time stipulation, the senate turned down another proposal for amendment to the bill prior to July 1, 1932, the construction of the ships. This would have left it optional for the president as to how many ships should have been started.

Sixteen republicans, including Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the republican leader, voted for the amendment with Washington, February 4.—(AP)—Overriding the expressed wish of President Coolidge, the senate by a vote of 54 to 28 refused late today to eliminate from the cruiser construction bill the stipulation that the sixteen ships shall be laid down before July 1, 1931.

Party lines went to smash on the proposition with a democrat, Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, offering the amendment to give the president a free rein over the naval program and 26 republicans voting against the Coolidge request.

This disposed of the dominant issue in the cruiser fight and the senate adjourned to meet tomorrow when passage of the measure authorizing 15 cruisers and an airplane carrier at a cost of $274,000,000 is regarded as assured.

President Coolidge lost on this same issue in the house last year. COUNCIL MAPS RULES FOR VIADUCT TRAFFIC

Ordinances Anticipate Early Opening of Great New Bridge System.

Anticipating opening of the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts and their approaches within the next month, city council Monday afternoon voted to make Wall street from Pryor street to the Whitehall street viaduct a one-way street for west bound traffic and ordered establishment of traffic signal lamps at Alabama and Pryor, Hunter and Pryor, Pryor and Wall streets.

Another light was okayed for West Peachtree and North avenue; East Fair street from Whiteford avenue to Boulevard was declared a boulevard. On motion of Councilman Ellis D. Barrett council voted to order traffic stop signs at the railway crossings at the Piedmont avenue underpass taken up.

Mr. Barrett declared the signs have caused motorists great discomfort and that traffic officers have had a score of alleged offenders into court and that they were fined.

"This stop is actually at an alley," Mr. Barrett contended. "If a stop is needed, it should be placed on the alley side and leave traffic through on the boulevard." An attempt to have fines returned to those who have paid them for driving over the stop was referred to the police committee.

An ordinance providing that railroads at Henderson's crossing at Capitol and Ridge avenues should erect safety gates was repealed when Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward, notified council that safety signal lamps have been erected, and that they are more effective and more modern.

EFFORT TO REPEAL ASPHALT PLANT PERMIT DEFEATED

Effort on the part of Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, to repeal a permit granted two weeks ago for establishment of an asphalt mixing plant on a site near the proposed Southwestern Junior High school failed Monday, and Mayor Pro Tem Robert E. Pennington will name three members of council to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting of council.

Mr. Couch's proposal precipitated a heated discussion between Councilman Tom C. Morris, also of the fifth, declared council had already granted the permit and that a reversal of its position would be "childish."

Mr. Pennington will name his committee today, it was expected.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO WIDEN SCOPE OF SMOKE PROBE

Council Monday afternoon declined to grant police powers to a special committee named by Mayor I. N. Ragdale to investigate the smoke nuisance in Atlanta or to extend the powers of the committee.

Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, of the seventh ward, presented a paper designed to broaden the scope of the investigation so that the committee could survey the entire city and various industries, but the paper was ruled out of order when Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, declared council had no right to extend police powers to any one not a citizen of Atlanta.

James R. Bachman, chairman of the smoke committee, is not a resident of the city proper, and the presiding officer sustained Mr. Saunders' objection.

Other members of the committee are C. E. Deiter, president of the Atlanta Smoke Abatement league; H. L. Willis, representing the Atlanta section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers; Frederick H. McDonald, representing the Georgia section, American Society of Civil Engineers; E. W. O'Brien, representing the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and Councilman Ellis B. Barrett and James L. Wells.

Decrepit City Mule Doomed To Furnish Food for Zoo Feast

When a person or animal has served his usefulness, the world is through with him.

That adage was never more forcefully brought home than in the case of Jack, a gray mule now in the Atlanta park department.

At the request of the parks committee Monday afternoon, city council voted, instead of pensioning the faithful servant, to permit department officials to kill the animal and serve his body to the wild animals inhabiting the Grant park zoo.

The paper, along with scores of others, will go to Mayor I. N. Ragdale today for his approval.

For many years, Atlanta's mayor has been a live stock dealer and predictions were that the mayor will not approve such disposal of a public servant.

LETTER ON WORLD PEACE MOVE FILED BY CITY COUNCIL

Council received and filed Monday a letter from William A. Ryan, promoter of a world peace move instituted in Boston in observance of its tercentenary in 1930.

The letter asked Atlanta to urge adoption of the Kellogg peace treaty to keep the world out of war via the peace route.

CORNER LEASING PROPOSAL IS SENT TO COMMITTEE

Leasing of the northwest corner of Central avenue and Hunter street Monday was left to the buildings and grounds committee of city council following receipt of an offer for the property by Mayor I. N. Ragdale.

The offer as made to the mayor provides for payment of $150 a month for the first five years of the lease; $200 a month for the next five years; and $225 for the next ten years.

Proposals should be addressed to profiteers.

Councilman George B. Lyle, of the 11th ward, chairman of the committee. Other committee members are Alderman Claude E. Buchanan and J. Allen Couch and Councilmen John A. White and H. Turner Loefer.

An effort to leave the leasing up to the bridge committee failed.

HYLAN MAY RUN ON 'CLEAN' TICKET TO BEAT WALKER

Palm Beach, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—John F. Hyland, former mayor of New York city, may again seek that honor, but if he does it will be on a platform of "stop graft," he announced here tonight.

Mr. Hyland arrived today to spend several weeks' vacation, and admitted later that it was possible he would be a candidate to succeed "Jimmy" Walker.

Mr. Hyland declared if as many as 75,000 persons sign a petition for him to run again he would enter the race, adding that 60,000 already had signed such a petition.

"I must first know if the people will be squarely behind me in a movement to take the city over from the profiteers."

WHALEN CHANGES DEPARTURE TIME TO AVOID UNKNOWN

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Because an unidentified man insisted that he be given reservations on the same train on which Grover A. Whalen, police commissioner, had planned to travel to Miami, Fla., the commissioner took an earlier train tonight. He had intended to leave at 8:35, but instead left at 7:05 in the private car of Paul Block, the publisher. With him were Mr. and Mrs. Block, Thomas J. Walsh, commissioner of standards and appeals, and his bodyguard, Detective Sam Copland.

A man who did not give his name made several inquiries regarding reservations on "Mr. Whalen's train."

and when informed there was none, left a telephone number asking the ticket agent to call him if anyone canceled their reservations. Police investigated and when they found the telephone number was fictitious Mr. Whalen changed his plans.

To Honor Pershing.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Plans for the erection of a memorial to General John J. Pershing in the American Legion's permanent war memorial building in Paris were announced today at a luncheon given by Otto H. Kahn, banker, to Major General Charles P. Summerall. In making the announcement, Lieutenant Colonel Francis E. Drake, president of the memorial association, said the memorial will be the main salon on the ground floor of the four-story building. It will be known as Pershing hall.

Fertilizer Trade Menace Warned If Cyanamid Firm Is Given Lease for Shoals

Passage of Madden Bill Would Open New Com- petitive Element, Says Official of National Body

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The contention that leasing of the Muscle Shoals properties to the American Cyanamid company for fertilizer production would bring into that industry a new competitive element which would wreck fertilizer manufacturers, was made today before the house military committee.

Opposing the Madden bill, which contemplates a 50-year lease of the property, Charles A. Brand, executive officer of the National Fertilizer Manufacturers' association, said that the fertilizer concerns had lost $225,000,000 in the last eight years and that passage of the legislation would increase the difficulties already confronting them.

Brand said he considered the proposed lease but one step removed from government operation of the project because he contended it would turn over to a private concern a large amount of assets at a low rate. With fertilizer plants just ending an eight-year period of losses, he said, the introduction of a new competitive element into the market would wreck the industry.

Brand contended that fertilizer manufacturers already were sufficiently well regulated by state laws more stringent than those governing the sale of food.

In addition, he said, the market already is oversupplied. The fertilizer man added that the annual consumption was 7,000,000 tons, with a manufacturing capacity of 10,000,000 tons and sufficient equipment available to produce an additional 2,000,000 tons if it were needed.

In the face of this condition, he said, the fertilizer prices were lower than those of any other major product used by the farmers.

Replying to the questions of Representative James, of Michigan, ranking republican on the committee, Brand said he was opposed to the government doing anything that could be done by private business equally well. The method of nitrate manufacture employed at Muscle Shoals already was obsolete, he said, asserting that within the past 60 days a plant at Hopewell, Va., which manufactures nitrate by a synthetic process, had started shipping the chemical to a fertilizer company for use in making plant food.

Quarantined regarding the cost of making this chemical by the synthetic process, he said that it must be on virtually the same basis as the other nitrate because it is being sold in a competitive market with it.

He predicted that if the plant were leased to the American Cyanamid company that concern would begin the manufacture of fertilizer on a large scale, but added that he did not believe it would rehabilitate the cyanamid process of manufacture.

"I understand that there would be about $23,000,000 new capital put into the plant," he declared, "but I am sure that they would not put it into the cyanamid process. I think it would be used in one of the newer and more modern processes."

Brand said that the cyanamid company, which makes fertilizer, must be cheaper than the companies he represented because "it would be subsidized with a special interest rate."

FIGHT IS LAUNCHED ON GUARDIANSHIP OF MRS. DONALDSON

An appeal from the decision of the commission which ordered a guardian appointed for Mrs. Bert Donaldson, widow of the late Bert Donaldson, who was an investigator attached to the solicitor general's office, was filed Monday in Fulton superior court by Mrs. Ruby Williamson, niece of Mrs. Donaldson.

Miss Lucyle McGinnis, administratrix of Donaldson's estate, was appointed guardian for Mrs. Donaldson following the action of the commission in ordinary's court. The appeal from the guardianship was filed by William Schley Howard and S. J. Smith as attorneys.

Miss McGinnis has filed a suit in superior court seeking to have title to certain property devised to relatives of Mrs. Donaldson returned to Mrs. Donaldson and vested in the guardianship. In connection with this petition, Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy signed a temporary restraining order forbidding interference with the guardianship. The petition was filed by Alexander, McFarly and Binns, and names as defendants Robert Williamson, Mrs. Ruby Williamson, J. M. Bourne and wife, Mr. Ferrell and wife, and Samuel Wood.

MRS. L. B. WHEELER
LOSES IN $5,000
SUIT FOR DAMAGES

A verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury in Judge Sibley's U. S. court Monday in the case of Mrs. Luther B. Wheeler against the S. H. Kress company. The plaintiff charged that she was entitled to damages in the sum of $5,000 for injuries received in a fall while going down the steps in the store of the defendant, she having tripped and fallen over some trash.

Hearing in the case of Clarence Stephenson against the Western Union Telegraph company was begun Monday and will be continued today. The plaintiff asks for $10,000 damages for injuries received when the car he was driving struck a bicycle rack belonging to the defendant company.

Emory Quarles and Gene Beck were fined $80 each when they entered pleas of guilty to prohibition violation charges. Frank Hendrix, charged with possessing whisky, was fined $75.

Willard Pugh, 14, pleaded guilty following his indictment by the grand jury on a charge of stealing butter at Rome, some time ago, and was sentenced to the National Training School for Boys at Washington, D. C., until he is 21 years of age.

JUDGE BUSTAMANTE WILL SPEAK HERE ON WORLD COURT

Lectures by several internationally known educators and politicians will mark the opening of the second annual Southeastern Citizenship conference here February 12. The conference will be held under auspices of Emory university and will continue through February 16.

Judge Antonio S. de Bustamante, Havana, one of the 11 judges of the world court, will make the principal address of the first session Tuesday night. He will discuss the world court.

Dr. Edwin Mims, professor of English at Vanderbilt, will speak on the "Function of Criticism" in the south, and on "Adventurous Democracy" during the Wednesday program.

A discussion of Russia by Adamantios Th. Polyzois, editor of the Greek Atlantis, a model constitutional convention for Georgia presented by students of Emory and Agnew Scott, degree, and a banquet at which Dr. Walter F. Dodd, of Yale, will speak are the highlights of the Thursday program.

Lectures by Dr. Walthor Merck, German educator and politician, and by other members of the conference staff will close the last two days of the conference.

TWO YEARS' TERM
GIVEN PARKS HAYS
IN LARCENY CASES

A sentence of two years on the chain gang was given to J. Parks Hays Monday on consent verdict of guilty in two cases of larceny after trial. The jury recommended that Hays be punished for a misdemeanor. Judge Virlyn Moore sentenced Hays to 12 months on each of two indictments.

The defendant was charged with larceny after trust of a $1,387 blue-white diamond ring from Mrs. Mary S. Smith, of 900 Forrest road, and a $2,000 platinum mounted white diamond from Mrs. A. B. Tucker, of 783 Jackson street, N. E.

A feature of the case was that Hays and Judge Moore were schoolmates at Emory and Judge Moore attended Hays' wedding.

Red Cross Workers From Three States
Gather in Atlanta

The first session of the chapter workers' institute, being conducted for American Red Cross workers from Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama districts, was completed at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel Monday. Walter Davidson, national director of the American Red Cross, of Washington, was in charge of the corps of teachers, who launched the training courses that will be continued throughout the week.

The institute is for executive secretaries, public health nurses, home hygiene instructors, Junior Red Cross workers and first aid and life-saving workers who will take up problems in administration and organization, community problems, home service and war service, health and educational problems.

Similar institutes are to be conducted in other parts of the country, including Charlotte, N. C., and Tampa, Fla., Mr. Davidson stated.

BOYKIN PUSHES PLANS FOR GALLOGLY RETRIAL

Solicitor Seeking To Put Case on Calendar for Next Week.

Steps to clear the calendar sufficiently so as to place Dick Gallogly back on trial on murder charges next week were being considered Monday by Solicitor General John A. Boykin. In the event arrangements for the case to be retried next week cannot be perfected, he will put forth every effort to have Gallogly on the calendar for February 19, Mr. Boykin said.

The Clinton S. Carnes case is scheduled for next Tuesday in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's division of Fulton superior court. Carnes is charged with embezzlement of large sums from the Baptist home mission board. Jurors for the Carnes case were being called Monday, 150 regular veniremen and 60 extras having been drawn for the hearing.

Gallogly was given a mistrial last week, the jury having reported failure to agree after 24 hours of deliberation. Gallogly was on trial on an indictment returned in connection with the slaying of Willard Smith, drug store clerk, for whose murder George R. Harsh has been convicted and sentenced to the electric chair. Solicitor Boykin has not made definite announcement as to whether Gallogly will be tried for the Willard Smith or the S. H. Meeks slaying in the new trial.

Counsel for George Harsh have not filed a motion for a new trial for that defendant as yet. Harsh has 30 days from the date of conviction, January 19, in which to file his new trial motion. He is under sentence to die on March 15.

LITTLE SYMPHONY PLEASES SUNDAY CROWD AT EMORY

The Little Symphony orchestra of Emory university presented its first 1929 concert Sunday afternoon. Edward Kane, tenor soloist, sang with the orchestra.

The Little Symphony is the only orchestra of its kind in Atlanta. It is made up entirely of students and directed by Dr. E. Leola H. Dewey. Compositions by Gounod, Dvorak, Schubert and others were rendered Sunday with a rare interpretation of musical values.

Kane sang the aria "Salut De-meur" from "Faust" with the orchestra. He gave two encores, the first being from Puccini's "Manon Lescaut." He was accompanied by Mrs. Charles Chalmers.

LIBRARY SCHOOL DRAWS STUDENTS OF MANY STATES

Eight southern states and twenty universities and colleges are represented by the 33 students attending the second semester of the library school, conducted here by the Carnegie library and Emory university. It was announced at the library Monday.

The school, the only one of its kind in the south, has already placed 100 graduates in various cities throughout the south. Only college graduates are accepted for enrollment, and when they complete the prescribed course they are sent out to public and private libraries. The course of instruction is designed to fit the student to take over and manage a library.

WOMAN IS PLACED UNDER $200 BOND IN LIQUOR CASE

Mrs. M. A. Chandler, so-called "liquor-apron woman," was bound over by U. S. Commissioner Griffith Monday day under $200 bond on a charge of possessing and selling whisky.

It was charged that she had an especially constructed apron which enabled her to carry a number of pint bottles in concealment. She was arrested Saturday night in a raid conducted by government, city and county officers.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

School Teacher Quickly Gains 18 Pounds and New Energy

New YEAST and IRON builds weight quickly. Your own druggist guarantees results—or pay nothing

"I want to say a good word for IRONIZED YEAST so that the somewhat skeptical person may feel more safe and sure of results derived from its use."

I am a public school instructor and from my research and study I was convinced that IRONIZED YEAST was exactly the compound I needed to put me in shape for Spring sports and classroom routine. At the start I weighed 122 lbs., which is below my normal weight. I took only two bottles over a period of two months. I gained 10 lbs. with the first bottle and after finishing the second my weight was 170 lbs., a total gain of 18 lbs., which put me back to normal weight. More than the mere increase in weight IRONIZED YEAST brought more energy, greater endurance and an improved complexion."

(Signed) Linus L. Clark, N. Y.

How Thousands Have Changed Ugly Hollows to Graceful Admired Curves

You can believe these real letters. They are not ordinary advertising claims. They come from people like yourself who were many of them very skeptical when they started. But often in 3 or 4 weeks they gained 5 to 20 pounds. Thousands tell how skinny limbs quickly change to graceful roundness. Ugly hollows fill out. Sallow blighted skin becomes rosy, clear and smooth.

Only when Yeast is IRONIZED is it so wonderfully effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST accomplishes seeming miracles. Get these pleasant-tasting tablets in the handy bottle today. Safe for everybody. No gas or bloating.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Quit envying others their shapely form, their perfect skin, their pep and "go." You too can have all this. Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, your money back instantly.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to gaining weight. Take it regularly if you want the full benefit. And take it long enough so you not only gain but HOLD what you gain.—C. L. Y. Co.

SAMUEL TO APPEAR IN CONCERT FRIDAY

Increasing Interest Is Being Expressed in Recital by Music Lovers.

Increasing interest in the performance here of Harold Samuel, noted pianist and interpreter of the compositions of Bach, who will appear here at 8:30 o'clock Friday night, in the Atlanta Women's club auditorium, is being manifested in musical circles according to members of the Atlanta Music club, sponsoring Mr. Samuel's appearance.

Heralded as the greatest living exponent of Bach's music, Mr. Samuel has gained popularity among groups whose tastes vary widely in mediums of musical expression, due to his emphasis of the light and racy in rhythm found by Mr. Samuel in the compositions of Bach. At home in the works of all the great writers of music for the piano, Mr. Samuel is regarded as one of the day's outstanding masters in this field of expression, although his greatest acclaim has come through his interpretation of Bach.

DANIEL MICHENOT TO GIVE ADDRESS AT EMORY TODAY

Daniel Michenot, of Paris, distinguished French soldier and professor of music for the piano, Mr. Samuel is regarded as one of the day's outstanding masters in this field of expression, although his greatest acclaim has come through his interpretation of Bach.

Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, will deliver the address of welcome. The exercises today will be attended by students of Georgia Tech, Agnes Scott, Oglethorpe and Emory in addition to members of the Alliance Française. Prof. N. A. Good-year, of the Emory department of French, will have charge of the exercises.

GAMMON TO HOLD TRAINING SCHOOL IN CHURCH WORK

A second annual training school for church and Sunday school workers will be held next week at Gammon Theological seminary, beginning Monday and continuing through Friday. The sessions will be in the evening, from 7:45 to 9:45, to make it possible for persons employed during the day to attend. The purpose of the school is to give religious workers a larger vision, a deeper sense of responsibility, and preparation for more effective service.

MRS. NEWTON WING WILL SPEAK TODAY ON BETTER FILMS

Mrs. Newton C. Wing will deliver an address at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the regular meeting of the American Business Men's club at the Henry Grady hotel, it was announced by Dr. C. C. Aven, president.

Mrs. Wing will speak on better films. She has been affiliated with film censorship and screening of pictures in Atlanta for several years.

His parents are now traveling in Europe.

Although instructions have been sent to the Harry G. Poole company concerning the disposition of the body of Herbert Frederick Wearne, 37-year-old Canadian war veteran who killed himself in a local hotel, the cause for his act and the reason for his presence in Atlanta late Monday night remained undetermined.

The undertakers, in a wire from John J. Morrow, of New York, Monday were instructed to prepare the remains for burial and await further instructions concerning funeral arrangements. While the morticians were getting under instructions from Mr. Morrow police received a telegram from Scarsdale, N. Y. The message addressed to the detective department, read as follows: "Papers mention suicide of H. F. Wearne in hotel in your city. Advise me as to disposition of body. If not buried have undertaker embalm body and await instructions. I have called his father now in France. Charges guaranteed by John J. Morrow, 15 West 48th street, New York."

HIDES SUICIDE FROM FATHER.
New York, February 4.—(AP)—John J. Morrow, New York interior decorator, tonight said he acted on his own initiative today in asking that the body of Herbert Frederick Wearne, who hanged himself in an Atlanta hotel Sunday, be held until he could communicate with Wearne's family.

Morrow said Harry Wearne, the boy's father, was in Paris, and in poor health, and as an old friend of the elder Wearne, he called the father that the boy had died suddenly. The elder Wearne, who was a designer and manufacturer of print goods, is an Englishman whose headquarters are in New York. Morrow said he believed both the Wearne's were of English citizenship, and that neither was naturalized American.

The younger Wearne had been running a ranch in Canada, Morrow said, and was at loss to explain his presence in Atlanta. Morrow had not seen him in years.

The Wearne's lived in Alsace, France, where the elder Wearne had a wall paper factory when the world war broke out. It was destroyed by the German forces, and he came to New York, to found a firm here.

The father suffered a paralytic stroke a year ago, and Morrow tonight said he was anxious that no word of the manner of the son's death reach him. Morrow believed the body would be brought here for burial.

SOUTH FULTON BODIES MAP WIDER LEE DRIVE

Plans for an intensive campaign in the interests of the proposed widening and paving of Lee street from the Terminal station to the Clayton county line were virtually completed Monday night at a meeting of the executive board of the South Fulton Civic federation, held at the home of the federation's president, Dr. Beecher DuVall, at 905 Cascade road.

It was decided to place the campaign in the hands of a directing committee to be named during this week by President DuVall. This committee will have under it various subcommittees representing different sections through which the proposed boulevard would run. The plan is to conduct the campaign directly among the voters in order to bring popular opinion to the side of the project.

The federation is made up of 25 south Fulton county federations and the executive board is composed of the presidents of these various units. Other projects upon which the executive board placed its approval were the consolidation of Fulton and DeKalb counties and the purchase of the Pershing park tract by the city.

The admission of the Air Park Civic club and the Ben Hill Civic club to membership in the federation and the changing of the monthly meeting date of the executive committee to the 25th of each month were other actions taken at the meeting.

ALDERMANIC BOARD APPROVES PAPERS PASSED BY COUNCIL

All papers passed to the aldermanic board Monday afternoon by city council were approved with the exception of two small sewer rebates. They will go to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale today for his signature.

Marx Home Burns.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Fire tonight razed the New York home of Otto Marx, international banker, destroying the furnishings and many valuable paintings. The loss was estimated at $1,000,000. Firemen were hampered in their efforts by frozen hydrants.

SEARS, ROEBUCK LEADER TO ADDRESS GEORGIA U.

General R. E. Wood Speaks
Today on Economic Issue on State.

Athens, Ga., February 4.—(Special.)—General R. E. Wood, president of Sears-Roebuck company, who is spending a few weeks in the south, will deliver an address in the University of Georgia chapel Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock on some economic topic of interest to this state.

General Wood, who was in Atlanta a few days ago, was invited to speak at the School of Commerce of the university by Dean R. P. Brooks in line with his program to bring students into contact with leaders of economic thought and also to interest industrialists in the development of Georgia. Upon invitation of Chancellor C. M. Snelling, General Wood will speak to the entire student body instead of only the students of the School of Commerce.

While in Athens, General Wood, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Wood, will be guest of honor at a luncheon to be given Chancellor Snelling at the Georgian hotel.

While in Atlanta recently, General Wood spoke optimistically of the south's future, and particularly of Georgia's place in the economic

2-DAY CONVENTION OF PARTS JOBBERS TO CLOSE TONIGHT

The two-day convention of the Southeastern Parts Jobbers association, meeting at the Atlanta Athletic club, will come to a close tonight. This session will be featured by an address by L. T. White, of Raleigh, N. C., on "Today's Need of Sectional Associations."

Monday's sessions were marked by addresses by W. E. McIlroy, merchandising director of the association. The Advantages of Cooperative Effort" was the subject of Mr. McIlroy's address while Mr. Duggan spoke on "Merchandising Replacement of Parts." A banquet was given for the delegates Monday night.

R. B. Maddox, vice president of the association, is presiding over the meetings in the absence of the president, A. E. Parrish, of Nashville, Tenn.

MRS. J. C. MALONE AND SON INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. C. Malone, of Lakeland, Fla., and her young son suffered minor cuts and bruises Monday night when they were thrown from the automobile in which they were riding when it was struck at Peachtree and Linden streets by an automobile operated by Lloyd Moody, of East Point. Cases of reckless driving were made against Moody and J. C. Malone.

EDUCATION BOARD WILL PASS TODAY ON SCHOOL BUDGET

Members of the Atlanta board of education will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in city council chamber for the purpose of adopting a budget for operation during 1929.

The budget to be offered to the board by John T. Hancock, chairman of the finance committee, will call for an outlay of $2,834,621.50, which is $847,864.10 less than the $3,726,485 asked in the first budget adopted and vetoed by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale.

A proposal to divert $15,000 from the fund to establish a junior high school in the northwestern section of the city and to construct an auditorium at the Meador-Goldsmith school also will be up for consideration.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and as I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckies, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckies.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Tale of Forcing Rich Indian To Wed Against His Will Is Probed by Senate Body

Creek Tribe Member Says He Proposed on Second Day of Meeting and Lavished Gifts on His Wife.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—A lashing, smiling Indian told a senate committee today how he married against his will.

Made wealthy in his own right by a gushing Oklahoma oil well, Jackson

Barnett, a member of the Creek tribe, admitted sheepishly before his "pale-face" wife that she proposed to him on their second meeting, but the wife, when called to the stand refused to waive immunity and her testimony was not heard. The committee is investigating the marriage, described in other testimony as a "kidnaping."

Much of the Indian's story was a repetition of "I don't know." But now and then he answered more fully the questions that were propounded to him. The courts have declared him incompetent. He came here with his wife in response to a subpoena.

Once Senator Pine, republican, Oklahoma, asked him whether he knew the difference between $5 and a $20 bill.

His answer, "Do you?" drew a roar of laughter from the spectators who crowded the committee room.

Then Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, showed him a photograph of himself and asked him to identify it. Barnett, after a pause, apparently decided the question was a joke and refused to answer.

The Indian's testimony began with a rambling account of his marriage in Kansas and his subsequent removal from Oklahoma to Los Angeles, where he said he had a home "like the movie actors at Hollywood to live in."

Pictures of the mansion were put into the record.

"You didn't know you were going to get married, did you?" Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, asked, and when the Indian hesitated, Senator Wheeler asked him if he was "afraid of this woman," to which he replied, "No."

Wheeler did find out that Barnett was "happy in California," although it was "too hot" and "he liked his neighbors in Oklahoma."

"Did anybody tell you that the American Baptist Home Mission society wanted some money?" Wheeler asked.

"A preacher did," Barnett answered. "He said he had started building a house and couldn't finish it and wanted some money."

"Did you give it to him?"

"Yes, I told him he could have what he wanted."

This "donation," amounting to $500,000, was approved by the bureau of Indian affairs, was later set aside along with "another fellow" whose wife, who had already been twice married before she came to the Indian's shack in Oklahoma and took him away with "another fellow" whom Barnett said he did not know.

The Baptist money was to be used at Bacone college in Oklahoma.

"Don't you know she got some of your money?" Wheeler asked.

"No."

"Does she give any?"

"I got some money all the time."

"Do you know why you came here?"

"No."

"Who told you to give the money to the preacher?"

"Nobody. He wrote it in a book and carried it down town and got the money."

G. F. WILLIS HEADS COURTLAND ST. BODY

Work Will Be Resumed Soon on Paving of Thoroughfare.

Election of officers, report of activity during the past year and discussion of new plans featured the meeting of the Courtland Street Improvement association at the Chamber of Commerce building Monday afternoon.

The officers for 1929 are: G. F. Willis, president; George L. Harrison, vice president; Wade H. Davis, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee consists of Willis, L. J. Moore, Milton Dargatzis, John W. Grant, George F. Willis, J. J. Spalding, Wade H. Davis, John A. Silley, M. J. Davies, W. H. Kiser, J. J. Haverly, H. Warner Martin, P. H. Snook, Ed F. Bond, W. H. Kiser, James L. Dickey, John M. Slaton and E. M. Moffett.

The report of the activity of the executive committee of the organization stated that some progress had been made on the paving of Courtland street from Forrest avenue to North avenue and that work would be resumed on this project in a short while.

It was stated that future activity would include plans for an item in the proposed city bond issue to straighten out the offset in Courtland street at North avenue, and that some future date it was hoped to be able to extend Juniper street on through from 12th street to Peachtree circle.

ATLANTAN URGED FOR ARCHITECT FOR U. S. BUILDING

The suggestion of the Georgia branch, Associated General Contractors of America, that an Atlanta architect be permitted to design the new federal building to be constructed in Atlanta, has been brought to the attention of Harry S. New, postmaster general, by Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George, according to letters received from them Monday by Hugh W. Roberts, executive secretary of the Georgia branch.

Provided the suggestion is adopted by the postoffice department, there will be a competition on the part of members of the Atlanta chapter, American Institute of Architects, for the honor of submitting the design of the Atlanta building. The successful architect will then cooperate with the government architects in supervising the completion of the work.

The suggestion was brought to the attention of the Georgia senators by means of a letter from Mr. Roberts in which he pointed out that such a competition was held in Chicago and that at the present time a similar appeal is being made by St. Louis.

NOTED ORCHESTRA FOR MIDWINTER DANCES AT TECH

Appearing in Atlanta for its first performance outside of New York, the Goodrich Silvertown Cord orchestra will feature the Georgia Tech midwinter dances scheduled for this week, beginning Thursday, it was announced Monday.

The dances include the freshman hop at the new Georgia Tech dining hall on Techwood drive, Thursday night, the interfraternity dance Friday night at Garber's hall, on the corner of Peachtree street and North avenue, and the senior mid-year ball

Saturday night at Garber's hall.

Members of the dance committee are Hutch Bearden, chairman; Buster Harris, Jack McCorklin and Charlie Witmer.

The orchestra, which is now making its first tour of the country, is composed of Victor recording artists. The "silver masked tenor," radio star of WEA, is accompanying the orchestra as a feature.

BARLEY MALT SYRUP POPULARITY GROWS

No food product has encountered more growing demand and widespread use during recent years than barley-malt syrup. Despite the fact that it is not a new food property and has been used in various ways for more than a half century, barley malt syrup demand has been comparatively light up to a short time ago, but new uses have occasioned a great development in the industry and new great quantities are produced in tremendous quantities.

Breakfast food makers were the first to take advantage of the splendid qualities of barley malt syrup and they found that it made their product more palatable and more nourishing. Today the majority of breakfast foods include barley malt syrup in their composition.

Other industries began to experiment with this food product, and the baking interests quickly began to use it widely. It resulted in quicker fermentation, larger loaves with velvety texture, rich brown crust and improved appearance. Then the candy trade began using barley malt syrup to increase the nutriment and digestibility of sweets.

Malted milk drinks have long been popular at soda fountains because of their delightful flavor and high food value, and ice cream makers use it lavishly for the sake of taste, flavor and food value. Physicians have long taken official note of the high nutriment of barley malt syrup, and it is frequently encountered in prescriptions.

Manufacturers of this product have found that, while some food uses make plain barley malt syrup preferable, addition of some flavor increases its popularity. Chocolate malt wide appeal in malted drinks, and vanilla is another favorite combination. Then, too, a blend of barley malt syrup and hops was found to produce a potent bitter flavor that attracts a wide demand.

Hop-flavored barley malt syrup has perhaps done more than any other factor in recent years to increase palatability and wholesomeness of foods generally.

Henry Tritschler Is Vice President Of Chesman Agency

Henry Tritschler, widely known Chattanooga advertising man, has been elected vice president of Nelson Chesman & Co., national advertising agency, with which organization he has been connected for many years. This news was received in Atlanta Monday and will be of wide interest among southern advertising circles, in which Mr. Tritschler has been a leading figure.

For the past 18 years Mr. Tritschler has been associated with Nelson Chesman & Co. in Chattanooga, and his elevation to the vice presidency will not mean his removal from that city. He will be in charge of the agency's business in Chattanooga and throughout the south. It is learned.

Mr. Tritschler recently served as chairman of the southern council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies and has held many other honors.

Community Chest To Launch Phone Campaign Today

Need of larger support for Atlanta's program of social service will be described to several thousand men and women in a telephone campaign beginning today to increase public contributions for the work in 1929 of the 39 societies of the Atlanta Community Chest.

The campaign will be pressed from offices of the Community Chest in the Candler Annex by a group of young women. Their message will go to a list of 3,000 Atlantans who did not respond to the appeal for public support that began November 19 and that resulted, after two weeks of solicitations, in obtaining approximately $585,000 toward a goal of $150,000.

This latter sum was declared by a budget committee of prominent business men to be the minimum necessary for complete effectiveness of the chest agencies in 1929.

"We are nearly $100,000 short of the sum necessary," said H. M. Atkinson, president of the chest, yesterday, announcing plans for continuance of the appeal. "This means that the program of relief and constructive help which the city's welfare agencies have undertaken will inevitably suffer."

It means that the city's obligations toward its unfortunate, its obligations in guidance and helplessness, and in the work of character-formation, will be in part unfulfilled. And that would be, in case of a city of Atlanta's position and pretensions, a result unworthy of the possibilities."

Henry C. Heinz, chairman of the executive committee of the chest, and general chairman of the campaign for public support last fall, added his appeal to that of Mr. Atkinson.

"We are seeking to give every man and woman who is able to contribute even the smallest amount, an opportunity to participate in a task that is every person's responsibility," said Mr. Heinz. "It is so understandable how this responsibility can be evaded. The work of the 39 agencies supported through the chest fills a vital human need. It is intelligently, efficiently and economically performed, with assurance that Atlanta's charity dollar will go farther than by any other means of expenditure, with a system of coordination and cooperation among the societies that prevents duplication and waste of money and effort, and with a single campaign for funds that otherwise would be resolved into 39 separate campaigns, resulting in confusion and waste."

It is to be hoped that every man and woman called to a request for support of this work will respond."

FAMOUS CURATOR LECTURES TODAY ON EMORY CAMPUS

Barnum Brown, famous curator and lecturer on natural history from the American Museum of Natural History of New York, will speak at the Emory university auditorium at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the first of a two-day program. The lecturer is presented by the Emory Student Lecture association.

This is the second item of the 1929 series to be offered by the students. The first presentation, Count Felix von Luckner, was heard by a record-breaking audience, including many Atlantans, early in January.

The explorations of Mr. Brown have taken him to many countries of the east and provided material for his illustrated lecture on "India," to be given Tuesday evening.

His second lecture, on Wednesday evening, "Hunting Big Game of Other Days," will be supported by pictures from the "Lost World," marvelous photoplay showing the dinosaurs of past history. Having excavated the first of these great reptiles for the American museum, he was appointed director of the great "Hall of Fossils," which was built under his supervision.

The speaker is a graduate of the University of Kansas. He entered the scientific field and early became connected with the great American museum of New York.

Julian Dell, of Valdosta, is president of the student lecture association, and Dr. Ross H. McLean, of the history department, is director.

Cruiser Bill Is Way to Peace, Says George, Reconciling His Vote on Kellogg Pact

Checkmate Against Possible Building Programs of Foreign Nation Would Result, Asserts Georgian

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, February 4.—After voting recently for ratification of the Kellogg peace pact, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today urged passage of the pending cruiser bill authorizing the construction of 15 additional cruisers to bring the American navy up to an approximate parity with major foreign sea powers.

The Georgian senator in an address before the chamber told his colleagues that there was no inconsistency in the support, on the one hand, of the peace very discussion of the peace pact was clothed in great measure in the terminology of war. It must be borne in mind also that there was said to be nothing in any of the provisions of the pact and nothing arising out of any of its implications forbidding defensive war.

"In other words," he added, "the peace pact does not provide for the disarmament of any nation; it does not provide for limitations upon armament, land, naval or air."

"No one, of course, quarrels with the effort to limit armaments and no one would oppose a further conference looking to such limitations. But the logical condition precedent to disarmament or to drastic limitations upon armaments is not the conclusion of treaties limiting armaments simply, but is the setting up of some sort of machinery under which the nations can with safety to themselves disarm, or machinery which will give to the nations some assurance that they may with safety to themselves disarm."

Only Postpones Armament.

"Limitation of armament without some pacific means for settlement of international disputes merely postpones armament—that is all. The Washington arms conference, if it were to succeed, would not be a great conflict should come would prove conclusively that we had simply postponed the providing of armament. Such temporary postponement may be desirable in some circumstances. Anything that relieves the peoples of the world from great and increasing burdens of taxation is desirable. But mere postponement of armament makes for waste, extravagance, and enormous loss not only of material but of human life itself when we are faced with the necessities of making hasty preparations in some great emergency."

Senator George said the peace pact was regarded more as "the great treaty of national defense" which carried no prohibition of war.

"Certain it is that it does not prohibit defensive wars," he declared. "It applies only to aggressive war. But beyond that it does not set up machinery nor attempt to set up machinery by which pacific settlement of international disputes may be reached."

George Warns Colleagues.

At this point the Georgian senator warned his colleagues that as a step towards peace the country would do well to dismiss from mind the "inordinate antipathies for particular nations and the passionate attachments" for others, recalling that Washington, as the first president, gave similar advice for the early guidance of the United States.

"In determining the size of our navy," he continued, "we must have regard to the naval strength of other nations, and yet the measure of our strength upon the sea is necessarily measured by the strength of other nations upon the seas. Certainly that is not the only consideration. Therefore a vote for the bill is justified not upon a naked comparison between our naval strength and the strength of Great Britain or Japan or of any other nation, but it rests logically upon that duty to provide an adequate navy for the U. S., the relative strength of other nations upon the seas being considered merely a factor, although an important factor, in the decision."

As to the much discussed clause in the bill naming the time for completion of the program, Senator George said it was clearly the duty of congress to assume full responsibility for maintaining naval forces and he did not favor the proposal of passing this question on to the president for action.

"If anything has weakened in public esteem the legislative branch of the government," he asserted, "it is the disposition of the legislative branch to place upon the executive depart-

ATLANTA DEALERS IN GASOLINE CUT PRICE TO 23 CENTS

A change and one for the better, from the motorists' standpoint, was made in Atlanta Monday when all of the large oil companies issued orders for their dealers to cut the price of gasoline from 24 to 23 cents. The cut was put in effect Monday morning in Atlanta and it is understood that the reduction will be extended over the state.

The companies taking part in this price lowering were the Gulf Refining company, the Pan-American Petroleum Production company, the Reed Oil company, the Standard Oil company, the Wofford company and the Texas company.

Routh is coach of the team.

STATE EDUCATION BOARD POSTPONES ACTION ON DEFICIT

The state board of education took no action Monday relative to a plan to obtain funds to meet the present deficit in the state equalization funds, it was announced at the capitol Monday afternoon.

Governor L. G. Hardman is absent in Florida and the board felt that no definite action should be taken until he returns. A large amount of school funds is now tied up awaiting a decision of the supreme court in a case involving the disposition of funds of this class. The board discussed various kinds of legislation which will be submitted to the legislature this summer.

MAIL ORDER SALES OF AUTO LICENSES SET NEW RECORD

The mail order department of the motor vehicle bureau in the office of the secretary of state sold more than $500,000 worth of automobile license tags Friday, Saturday and Monday, it was announced Monday. This is the largest three-day record ever made by the department, which is under the direction of Dr. Royall J. Miller. The largest receipts for one day came Saturday, when $201,000 was received.

The total sales in all departments of the bureau are away ahead of the figures for the corresponding period last year, it was announced.

TITLE ASSOCIATION HONORS H. M. PASCHAL

Harry M. Paschal, vice president of the Atlanta Title and Trust company, has been elected a member of the judiciary committee of the American National Title association, an organization of title examination and guarantee concerns, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

The judiciary committee is composed of a chairman and six members. Its function is to advise members of legislation bearing on land titles, and to further introduction and passage of such legislation. Mr. Paschal's election to this important body will be of interest to his many friends and to southern title interests generally.

HUSBAND IS ARRESTED IN SMOKE HOUSE DEATH

Sharon School Teacher Poisoned, Coroner's Jury Decides.

Sharon, S. C., February 4.—(AP) Rafe King, husband of Mrs. Paye Wilson King, Sharon school teacher whose body was found January 25 in a smokehouse at their home here, was arrested late today and held for further investigation in connection with the inquiry into the death.

The arrest came immediately after a coroner's jury which had heard evidence all day, returned a verdict that Mrs. King died of poison "administered by person or persons unknown."

King, member of a prominent Shelby, S. C., family, testified at the inquest today that his wife left the house on the morning of January 25, presumably to go to her school which opened at noon. He said that he did not become alarmed until evening when he had not returned and then started a search. He aroused neighbors and a woman found the body in the smokehouse. King said he was ill at the time of the death.

Testimony was introduced that King had stated that his wife had several times threatened to commit suicide. Neighbors spotted a truck which was blood spattered and then started a search. He aroused neighbors and a woman found the body in the smokehouse. King said he was ill at the time of the death.

A score or more witnesses were heard at the inquest, many of them testifying to the same circumstances. Dr. Charles O. Burrus, Sharon physician, told the jury that poison had been found in the dead woman's stomach. He said that the lips and throat were burned by acid. There also was a cut on the forehead and her hair was matted with blood.

The Reverend E. B. Hunter, pastor of a local church, testified that he had found a suit of underwear on which were blood spots in a truck under clean clothing. This garment was identified as belonging to King.

King was present throughout the hearing. He came here this morning from the home of his parents in Shelby where he had been kept isolated and all reporters barred. Beyond his statement to the coroner's jury King declined to talk.

Solicitor Glenn, immediately after the jury's verdict had been rendered, let it be known that he would issue a warrant on which to hold King pending investigation. When King heard this he went to the sheriff and surrendered.

CHURCH AND STATE ACCORD IN ITALY DUE NEXT WEEK

Rome, February 4.—(AP)—Formal announcement of an accord between the Vatican and the government of Italy may be made a week from tomorrow. A report to this effect caused much comment in Vatican circles today, although some persons there were doubtful that a solution of the Roman question would be found so soon.

It was generally believed that if Pope Pius decided to give out the news on February 12, he would do so in connection with the celebration in St. Peter's of the anniversary of his coronation as pope. At that time he will be surrounded by his cardinals while in St. Peter's there will await him patriarchs, archbishops, bishops, heads of congregations and of religious orders, ecclesiastical, military and lay officials as well as a thousand or more faithful of the church from all nationalities. This assemblage has been planned for the celebration of the anniversary.

No wonder COLDS yield so quickly

Vicks attacks them 2 ways at once

Just rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks relieves colds two ways at once:

- (1) It acts through the skin like a poultice and "draws out" tightness and soreness.
- (2) Its healing vapors, released by the body-heat, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Most colds usually yield overnight.

LEW CODY ILL
WITH INFLUENZA
IN NEW YORK HOTEL

New York, February 4.—(P)—Lew Cody, motion picture actor, is confined to his suite in the Hotel Warwick with influenza.

Cody came east from Hollywood about ten weeks ago and while waiting to depart for Europe contracted influenza. Edward Burke, his manager, said today Cody is improving and hopes to be up in about a week.

Eminent Medical Missionary Discovers Method of Treating Coughs, Colds and Influenza

Developed Remedy in China, Formula Successfully Used in U. S., 1918 Epidemic. Now Offered to Sufferers Under Trade Name, "Fluco."

The presence of a severe epidemic of influenza, country-wide in extent, has recalled the notable success of an eminent Presbyterian medical missionary in treating this disease in the troubled days of 1918 when it first appeared in America.

During a period when medical science seemed almost helpless and thousands were dying, this physician, who was then on leave at Greenville, South Carolina, volunteered his services. With a remedy which he had used in his missionary hospital in Soochow, China, he treated hundreds of cases of influenza at Greenville, South Carolina, and Central, S. C., most successfully.

For reasons of medical ethics the name of this noted physician is not being published here, but it will be furnished on application if anyone desires to have it.

Mr. Charles Tarrant, Superintendent of Jacksonville Mills, Central, S. C., writes: "During the 1918 flu epidemic an eminent physician, several nurses and myself treated with Fluco 403 cases of influenza without a single death or case of pneumonia."

During the present influenza epidemic Fluco has again proven its tremendous value. Many families have reported the use of Fluco by every member, and in large educational institutions Fluco has been used liberally, with the result that colds and influenza respond quickly, and serious complications are avoided.

In every locality where Fluco has been used regularly you will find many who praise its quick effectiveness in stamping out colds and influenza.

Fluco has proven an efficient preventive for flu-pneumonia.

Colds that develop after patient has had flu are more dangerous. Stop colds quickly with Fluco before complications develop. 60c at your drug-gist.—(adv.)

Don't Neglect a Cold
Now, Is Doctor's Advice

Don't neglect any cold nowadays. Colds are so weakening; and in a weakened condition, you are so susceptible to more serious troubles.

When you find you are catching cold, take care to keep the bowels open. That's the first precaution every doctor advises. That's the way to avoid the congestion which makes you feverish, achy, half-sick, miserable.

Millions know the quick way to get a bottle of this splendid medicine, made from simple laxative herbs and pepsin by the formula Doctor Caldwell found so effective during his 47 years' medical practice.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin is mild and gentle in its action but it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution. Containing neither narcotics or opiates, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it gladly.

For colds, fevers, biliousness, indigestion, headaches, heartburn, nausea, bad breath, loss of sleep—any troubles caused by poor digestion or faulty evacuation, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin will prove a blessing.

It's overwhelming success and popularity is based on real merit—on one satisfied user telling another. Your drug store sells the generous bottles on a positive money-back guarantee to give satisfaction.—(adv.)

Cloudy Skies,
Rain Today,
Follow Snow

Following a Monday night made disagreeable by intermittent sleet and snow, forecasters advance hope that today will be cloudy but will be marred with nothing more serious than occasional showers, accompanied by slightly rising temperatures.

Starting with a brief but heavy rain and then alternating between gusts of sleet and flurries of wet snow, the elements conspired to the discomfort of pedestrians and motorists from about 6 o'clock Monday night until early this morning. An examination of the official temperature records for Monday, however, reveals that it wasn't actually cold but it "just felt that way." Thermometer was 35 degrees and maximum 48.

The highly unpleasant visitation of sleet and snow is believed to have been due to the fact that Atlanta was on the southern edge of a snow storm which hit cities in the central and central-southern states Monday.

Uncle Sam has recently adopted a new official air mail envelope and they are now on sale at all postoffice and branches. The new containers are quite snappy, having a narrow colored border and bearing round five-cent stamps with "U. S. POSTAGE" across the top, "via air mail" at the bottom and an airplane superimposed across the center.

For those who may have an idea that flying a mail plane over any of the routes leading to or from Atlanta is an easy task it might be well to point out that on only one route in the United States can the pilot "set his plane down anywhere"—and that route is not near Atlanta.

The route between Chicago and St. Louis, over which Colonel Lindbergh got his first experience as an air mail pilot, is 275 miles over water as well as a table and landing fields are almost constantly available. Now contrast this condition with the terrain between here and Washington, D. C., and New York. Or up over the mountains to Chicago, the "safe" air mail pilot jobs are mighty few and far between and the boys who bring Atlanta's sky letters don't have them.

An example of real speed in air mail service is given by Postmaster Davis at Champaign, Ill., who says, "A Champaign jeweler wired a New York wholesaler at 3:05 p. m. Monday for a piece of jewelry. At 10:35 o'clock Tuesday morning the postman delivered the jewelry at the store." And many merchants are taking advantage of this speed in business "pinches."

That America's youth is becoming each day more "air-minded" is shown by the recent announcement of a merger of five thriving flying schools with a view of extending this chain until schools of instruction may be established in every principal city in the United States. These particular schools, calling themselves the Universal Aviation Schools, are located at St. Louis, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Chicago and Marion, Ill.

These are only a few of the many that are now operating. For the most part the instruction at the bigger schools is done by ex-war pilots or otherwise accredited aviators who carefully prepare their students for flying. Each year now these schools are turning out scores of eaglets and it seems certain that this number will gradually increase until a very appreciable percentage of our "young folks" may be able to climb into the cockpit and safely take any sort of ship aloft and back again.

And now we have the airplane part shop. The first one of these establishments, as far as this column can learn, has recently been put into operation at the St. Louis airport by the Robertson Aircraft corporation. The company will make and retail, right at the field, such standard machine parts and instruments as are most commonly required by pilots and will thus save the fliers much time formerly consumed in sending to factories for parts.

Newspaper Publishers
To Hold Midwinter
Meeting at Nashville

Nashville, Tenn., February 4.—(P)—Announcement was received here today from Manager Cranston Williams that the officers and directors of the Southern Newspaper Publishers association will hold their annual midwinter meeting in Nashville, the guests of James G. Stahlman, of the Banner, Tennessee director, on February 16-17.

At the meeting the time and place of the annual convention will be fixed. Other questions expected to be discussed are the proposed revision of the rates on newspaper paper to all points in the south, now before the interstate commerce commission; legislation offered by Senator Williams of Montana, in connection with publicity appearing in the papers; the bill of Senator Harris, of Georgia, to deny second-class mailing privileges to newspapers of chain ownership, and plans to advertise the south.

Virginia Anti-Smith
Leader Asks Raskob
To Resign Position

Richmond, Va., February 4.—(P)—Governor Harry F. Byrd today took under advisement a telegram from A. J. Dunning, Jr., North Carolina anti-Smith leader, which asks him if he "expects to countenance the continuance of the democratic party under the Smith-Raskob-Roosevelt-Tammamy policies and leadership."

The governor received the message upon his return to his office today.

The question was addressed to him as national committeeman for Virginia and as head of the democratic party in the state.

Mr. Dunning, when telegraphing the governor, sent a wire to John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, asking that he resign his post as chairman of the party and another wire to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt asking for an expression as to whether he still believes Governor Alfred E. Smith was "cheated out of the presidency by forces of bigotry and intolerance."

The anti-Smith leader, to be the second district representative at the conference of anti-Smith leaders to be held in Lynchburg tomorrow, declared that he sent the message as an individual rather than as a representative of the anti-Smith forces.

Trolley Runs Wild
On Cincinnati Hill,
Two Riders Killed

Cincinnati, February 4.—(P)—A broken air line caused by a collision with an ash cart here today made useless the air brakes on a street car and it careened down a steep hill, jumped the track at a curve, crashed into a three-story brick building and snuffed out the lives of two passengers. Nearly a score of others were injured.

Harry Fischer died from loss of blood. His leg was nearly severed. Jesse James Coats, 10, negro, was buried in the wreckage, apparently killed instantly.

OPEN SWITCH FATAL TO FRISCO ENGINEER

Passenger Car and Engine
Overtaken and Smashed
Gondola.

Megargel, Ala., February 4.—(P)—Engineer S. G. Foreman, of Pensacola, Fla., was killed last night when the engine and mail car of the Sunnyside, Frisco passenger train, overtaken and crashing into a gondola on the switch track here.

Rail officials announced this morning that the switch lock gave signs of having been tampered with and bloodhounds were ordered from Monroeville in an attempt to pick up a trail leading from the switch.

The sheriff's office at Monroeville, near here, said that the lock on the switch appeared to have been broken and the signal light extinguished. The southbound Sunnyside had passed safely over the switch earlier in the day.

Foreman, said to have been the oldest engineer in the service of the Frisco, probably saved the lives of his passengers when he stayed at the throttle, applying the brakes and reversing the throttle, lessening considerably the speed of the train, the officials reported this morning.

The train was going 35 miles an hour when it swerved from the main line into the siding.

Traffic was restored early this morning after the wrecking crew from Pensacola cleared the wreckage.

The Sunnyside runs between Pensacola and Kansas City.

C. & O. PRESIDENT
ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENT

Richmond, Va., February 4.—(P)—President W. J. Harahan, of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, announced here today that improvements approximating $18,400,000 are to be made on this road in the near future. Shops representing an expenditure of $3,000,000 will be located at Russell, Ky., he said, where an additional expenditure of $750,000 will be spent in various track improvements. The program shows that the largest individual expenditure will be made at Huntington, W. Va., where the rebuilding of the locomotive shops and construction of tracks are expected to total about $7,000,000. Expenditure of $504,000 is programmed for Stevens, Ky.

Mr. Harahan says that every part of the C. & O. system will be benefited by the new program.

ONE DEAD, FIVE HURT IN DUPONT AUTO CRASH

Waycross, Ga., February 4.—(Special).—Benjamin F. Lee, of Dupont, is dead and five others are seriously injured as the result of an automobile collision late Sunday afternoon between a Buick sedan and a Buick sedan.

The injured are:
Grover B. Lee, of Dupont.
F. M. Williams and Walter Williams, of Lakeland.
E. G. Register, of Dupont.
Louis Bennett, of Lakeland.

The first three are in a hospital in Waycross, the last two have been taken to their homes.

The six men were in a small car en route from Homerville to Dupont when the car was struck by a sedan traveling towards Homerville. The collision occurred on a curve and the smaller car was turned over into a ditch.

At Homerville it is stated that the occupants of the sedan did not stop at the scene of the tragedy but drove into Homerville, there notifying Dr. G. C. Huey and an ambulance.

It has not yet been ascertained who were in the Chevrolet.

The deceased is a member of one of the most prominent families of Clinch county. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lee, of Dupont; by three brothers, J. B. Lee and J. W. Moore, of Dupont, and W. M. Moore, of Milan; by three sisters, Mrs. A. O. Cook, of Milan; Mrs. W. L. Green, of Lakeland, and Mrs. W. L. Mobley, of Dupont.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the North cemetery near Dupont, Rev. O. A. Knight, pastor of the Primitive Baptist church, officiating.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed
External treatments seldom banish Piles.
Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.
The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.
J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Jacob's Drug Stores, 1001 N. Peachtree St., and the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—(adv.)

Senate Body Probes Appointment of Memphis Postmaster.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—Continuing consideration of the nomination of Edward V. Shelly to be postmaster at Memphis, Tenn., a senate committee today received an affidavit from Bob Church, negro republican leader for that city, denying that he had asked payment in return for his influence in the selection of a person for the post.

The charge to which Church referred had been made by George T. Taylor, a former acting postmaster at Memphis, whose confirmation for the post was refused by the senate, and also by George H. Poole, an aspirant for the position.

Shelly, whose name was sent to the senate by President Coolidge a month ago, last week declared in a sworn statement that it neither had been intimated nor suggested that he pay anything for the appointment.

After its session today the committee was undecided whether it would hear further testimony in the case or take up consideration of Shelly's nomination in executive session.

Walker L. Wellford, head of the Hoover Non-partisan club in Memphis, who said Shelly was a democrat and termed his choice unsatisfactory, was the target of questioning by Representative J. Will Taylor, republican, of the second district of Tennessee.

"Do you believe in thorough enforcement of the prohibition act?" he asked Wellford. The witness replied that he did, whereupon Taylor asked him if it were not true that he was engaged in the manufacture of barrels and kegs, some of them charred. Wellford agreed that he was.

"Do you sell them to bootleggers?" Taylor then queried. The witness said he did not know.

pressure, I had dreadful headaches, and was so nervous I couldn't get a good night's sleep.

"My liver was sluggish, I was habitually constipated and was continually taking laxatives and other medicines, but all I ever got was a little temporary relief."

"Sargon has helped me wonderfully and I now eat anything I want without ever having indigestion. My nerves are perfect and my sleep is peaceful. But the best thing is the way Sargon has strengthened me and increased my weight fifteen pounds."

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are an ideal laxative for people of advanced age, because they are so mild in their action. Sargon tonic is the greatest medicine I have found in all my experience and deserves all the good things being said about it. I never intend to be without it."

The above remarkable statement is from Mrs. Johanna Bent, highly esteemed resident of 331 Jehl Place, Memphis, Tenn. She is an active worker in the Lutheran church, and says she now is able to take as keen interest in every day affairs as a woman half her age.

The Sargon representative is at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of the medicine. Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills may also be obtained at the other Jacobs' stores all over Atlanta. (adv.)

Officials Break Sod as Construction Work Begins On "Bobby Jones" Golf Course in Memorial Park

Photos by Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographer

Construction of Atlanta's first municipally owned 18-hole golf course, named in honor of Bobby Jones, king of golf, and first steps in development of the south's greatest and most pretentious memorial to heroes of the war between the states, were begun Monday when dignitaries of Fulton county and the city of Atlanta broke ground on the links in Peachtree Battle Memorial park.

Bobby Jones himself was the honor dignitary at the ceremony, and officiated in the start of the course. He was assisted in lifting the first shovelful of dirt by Walter B. Stewart, former chairman of Fulton county commissioners and at present chairman of the public works committee of that body, and Captain George M. Hope, another member of the commission.

A corps of 100 convicts, assumed charge after the brief opening by officials, and will continue to work until the links are ready for the opening some time this fall, according to estimates of John R. Van Kleek, of the firm of Stiles & Van Kleek, engineers on the work.

Ideally Situated.

"With the official start, Atlanta begins development of one of the finest golf courses in this section of the country," Mr. Van Kleek said. "It is ideally situated. The terrain is especially adapted to the use, and the 200 acres available at this site, provide ample space for construction of one of the finest and most difficult courses in this section of the south. Steady work should complete the job by fall, and the links will be begun early next winter."

The firm of Stiles & Van Kleek enjoys the reputation of being one of the best golf and landscape architects in the country, having designed golf courses in almost every section of the United States.

Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, chairman of the parks committee of city council officiated at the ceremony, and other members of the parks committee, including Alderman Oscar H. Williamson, of the ninth, and Councilman James T. Osburn, of the seventh, were present.

In Memorial Park.

The course is located in the Peachtree Battle Memorial park, and is the first project in development of the biggest memorial to heroes of the sixties in this section of the country. The city owns more than 200 acres, extending along each bank of Peachtree creek from Peachtree road towards the Chattahoochee river. When the park land acquisitions are completed it is contemplated that the park will extend from Peachtree road on both sides of the creek to the Chattahoochee river and will contain more than 500 acres of the most historic land in Fulton county.

Containing gray and blue forces battled for 64 days on the slopes and valleys which now comprise some of the park property. More than 8,000 heroes fell in the hectic struggle and hallowed the ground with their blood. The terrain is virtually unchanged from the time the contending forces threw salients in the area. There are many picturesque scenes which contribute to enrich the territory and to make it especially desirable for a park and memorial.

It will become the central sector of a line of civil war memorials extending from the Kennesaw Mountain Military Memorial park on the west to the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial on the east, and will contribute in no small measure towards preservation of the memorial relics of the titanic struggle of more than six decades ago.

Comments Commission.

Mr. White commended the commissioners for furnishing the labor which is making possible development of the park, now owned by the city of Atlanta, for Atlantans and citizens of Fulton county and establishment of the great memorial to those in both northern and southern armies who fought so valiantly for the causes in which they believed.

"Without assistance from the county," he said, "we would be unable to open these courses in the near future, since the park department's appropriations are smaller this year than last. But with the labor contributed by the county commissioners we will easily have the Jones and the White courses ready for play within a year, with resulting recreational values to residents of both the city and the county."

Cooperation of the federal government in establishment of the park has been assured by recommendations of a special committee of city council, Chairman of Congress to survey the project along with the Kennesaw Mountain park site. This committee recommended that the government assist in supplying such markers as may be needed in development of the memorial idea and preserving the historic battleground of the battle of Atlanta for posterity.

Inspects White Course.

While in Atlanta, Mr. Van Kleek inspected the John A. White golf course now under construction at the John A. White park in the seventh ward. He expressed his approval of the progress and also stated the area of Atlanta's city-owned golf facilities will be doubled by this time next year.

Congestion at the Ker, Piedmont and Candler courses will be relieved materially with completion of the Bobby Jones and White courses.

DE RIVERA CRUSHES SPANISH REVOLUTION

Armed Resistance Ends as Government Tightens Rigid Censorship.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, February 4.—(AP)—General Primo De Rivera appeared tonight to have crushed the armed revolt against his dictatorship which last showed its head in Valencia but travelers reaching here said that his troubles were not yet over.

Discussions, protests and manifestos are said to have taken the place of fighting, while the government is clamping down on an even more rigid censorship to prevent dissemination of all information unfavorable to it. The newspapers are forbidden to publish even news already known to the public and correspondents have been fined heavily. Not a word appears in the Madrid dailies about the happenings in Ciudad Real and Valencia, where the army garrisons took part in the uprisings.

General Francisco De Aguilera, former minister of war, who, on two previous occasions has been punished for plotting against the government, is said to be in the Madrid jails, and at the same time claiming to be a representative of the state revenue department for the enforcement of the cigarette and cigar stamp act.

It was brought out in court that he accepted money from the Holland Drug company for the revenue department in payment for revenue on cigars that the drug company, it is alleged, had failed to stamp.

On another occasion the same thing happened with W. G. Groover, a retail grocer.

The defendant claimed he was working under another deputy collector and that he purchased stamps in Savannah with the money collected in Statesboro, and that the stamps were burned in his father's room in the Hotel Savannah.

His father, J. B. Hightower, until January 1, 1926, held a position with the state revenue department.

Outstanding witnesses for the state were Leonard Wilson, who repaired the defendant's car, and later who saw the name of the defendant on a local hotel register and detected the same man using two names: R. J. Holland, owner of the Holland Drug company; Cheatham Fields, clerk in the Holland Drug company, Deputy Commissioner Wise, of Atlanta, and Chief Clerk Rockwood, of the revenue department.

NO ARRESTS MADE FOR SHOT FIRED AT HONDURAS HEAD

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, February 4.—(AP)—There were no arrests or explanations today because of a shot fired yesterday at President Vincente Mejia Colindres in the parade preceding his inaugural.

The shot was fired while the inaugural party was proceeding from the cathedral to the presidential palace, but it missed the president and buried itself in the wall of the Casino Hondureno.

President Colindres was elected October 27, 1926, on a coalition ticket to succeed former President Paz Barahona.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspirin, and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirin is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal cold, and children's choking up at night. (adv.)

Danger remove the Film on teeth

It is the chief source of "off-color" teeth—of decay, pyorrhea.

The Film that turns white teeth "off color"

SCIENCE has made a significant discovery. The cause of dull discolored teeth is found to be the chief cause of serious tooth and gum disorders. That cause is a film that forms on teeth.

You can feel film with your tongue—a slippery, viscous coating. It clings to teeth and gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs stains from food and smoking to turn white teeth "off color" and cloud their brilliance. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, plus tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

To remove film dentists prescribe the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film so that brushing easily removes it.

Start today. Get Pepsodent at any drug counter or write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

GA. 'TAX COLLECTOR' IS ADJUDGED GUILTY

Statesboro, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Clifford Hightower, of Dublin, alias J. R. Smith, alias J. C. Davis, charged with cheating and swindling, was found guilty in two cases here today in the superior court. Sentence was reserved.

It was alleged that in December, 1927, Hightower came to Statesboro, representing himself as J. R. Smith at one place and J. C. Davis at another, and at the same time claiming to be a representative of the state revenue department for the enforcement of the cigarette and cigar stamp act.

It was brought out in court that he accepted money from the Holland Drug company for the revenue department in payment for revenue on cigars that the drug company, it is alleged, had failed to stamp.

BOY 'MAKES FIRE,' DIES

Burns Fatal to Child, 4, at Winter Haven, Fla.

Winter Haven, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—A childish notion that he wanted to "make a fire" today cost the life of Vernon Huver, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Aline Huver, of Auburndale.

The child died in a hospital here of burns received when his clothing ignited from a fire he built with wood and kerosene in a yard, where he was playing.

Neighbors ran to his rescue, but did not succeed in extinguishing the flames before he had been fatally burned.

The body was taken to Auburndale for burial.

RADIO-TELEGRAPH NET PLANNED FOR COUNTRY

Wireless Communications Company's Proposal Given
Okay by Radio Commission.

BY MARTIN CODEL.
(Copyright, 1934, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
Washington, February 4.—Having conquered the tortuous paths of politics, the Universal Wireless Communications company is now free to proceed toward developing its promoters' dream of a nationwide radio telegraph system rivaling the Postal and Western Union. The congressional inquiry just ended, it is generally agreed, has served to establish the sincerity of purpose of the Buffalo promoters of the enterprise.

No public assurances of the technical practicability of the project can be charged against the federal radio commission in the light of the developments at the hearing. The project is regarded as a gigantic experiment, whose practical aspects will best be measured after the 10 stations, which must be built in as many different cities before the end of this year, are in operation. Right to the 40-wave lengths granted can be revoked if the company fails to make good on its promises.
Dr. John Nathansohn, Washington manager of the project, assured Representative Free, of California, and the house committee, that his company is amply fortified with equipment and patents to carry out its plans. He also stated in testimony today that there is no immediate intention on the part of the board of directors to float a stock issue, although it is expected the corporation will require capital of twenty-five million dollars or more.

Why sales slumped after the banquet

There had been "pep talks" and humor, music and statistics, a seven-course dinner and the announcement of increased commissions. Every man went home feeling genial, promising himself and the company officials that he would double his sales before the week was out.

Yet the very next day, sales slid down to a new low mark for the year—as any medical authority could well have predicted.

One of the prime causes of Monday colds, of the epidemic of colds which follow any holiday, is the lowered resistance, decreased vitality, and acidity, due to over-eating. The slightest exposure serves to bring on grip or flu.

Hence the obvious wisdom of taking GROVE'S BROMO QUININE promptly after any unusually heavy meal. These tiny tablets, easy to take, regularize and tone the system. They build up resistance and help Nature avoid or throw-off colds quickly. Feverish condition, headache, or stopped-up feeling, all yield with surprising speed... Remember there is only one Bromo Quinine. So emphasize GROVE'S, when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

Marquette D'Alvarez, Peruvian operatic contralto, will be featured with the Stromberg-Carlson in a program to be broadcast through WSB and the N. B. C. system tonight at 7 o'clock.

Madame D'Alvarez is recognized as one of the best operatic contraltos in the world of music and her voice has attracted thousands of persons to concert halls. Her program for Tuesday night will include the famous "Habanera" from Carmen and "Ojos Tapados," a Mexican folk song.

Godfrey Ludlow, violinist, will play "Estrellita" in this program, which is composed mainly of Latin melodies. Also Sanella, guitarist; Keith McLeod, pianist; and a quartet composed of Milton Cross, tenor; Maurice Tyler, tenor; Walter Preston, baritone, and Marley Sherrie, basso, will be heard in this program.

The complete program follows:

Irene Franklin, who has a gorgeous voice and a sense of humor; Frank Fay, who has an original brand of comedy, and Annette Kellerman, who does not need an introduction, will be featured in the Radio-Keith-Orpheum hour to be broadcast through WSB and the National Broadcasting company system from 10 to 11 o'clock tonight.

The program is the third in the series of Radio-Keith-Orpheum hours which present the foremost vaudeville talent of America to the radio audience every Tuesday night.

Joseph Regan, an Irish tenor with a national reputation; Al Bernard and Billy Beard in a blackface comedy sketch; Ethel Ivers, a singing moneyologist, and the Tremaine orchestra also will be included in the program.

Miss Franklin is genuinely amusing and will have several new songs to present. Fay, who has been starred in musical shows in both America and England, is considered one of the most unusual comedians in the amusement world. Miss Kellerman, whose figure is the envy of 99 per cent of the feminine population of the United States, will tell how she got that way.

Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, will present his inaugural program for the Old Gold-Paul Whiteman hour to be broadcast through WSB and the National Broadcasting company system from 10 to 11 o'clock tonight. The inauguration of this hour marks one of the biggest events, both from the point of view of actual expenditure and of talent that has ever taken place in the radio world. Approximately $1,000,000 is involved in the two-year contract that has been signed by the P. Lorillard company, manufacturers of Old Gold cigarettes, and the Columbia Broadcasting system, and at least half a million dollars will be expended for additional talent.

In order to make a gala occasion of his first radio concert he has prepared his program with great care and with an eye to pleasing his mammoth audience. The first number, therefore, that he will present will be a medley of songs of the past that first made him famous. These will include such pieces as "Whispering," "Avalon," and "Japanese Sandman." This medley will be followed by a large number of the very latest musical hits, presented in a way that only the famous King of Jazz can do.

The complete program follows:

tions and each instrument will be studied from a service viewpoint. Practical applications will be made by sending out members of the class with service men from local radio concerns.

The class will be conducted by Henry L. Reid, one of Atlanta's ablest engineers. Mr. Reid owns and operates amateur station W4KU and is president of the Atlanta Radio club. The class in radio theory, which meets Monday and Friday nights, is taught by Professor L. D. Tabler, of the electrical engineering department. The engineering facilities of the day school are now shared by the night school classes. Included in the equipment used in the radio broadcasting station WGST. This station was presented to Georgia Tech by The Constitution. The manufacturers of radio equipment have also been generous in donating equipment for instruction purposes.

SEIZED IN HOLDUP IN WHICH ALLEGED PAL IS SHOT DEAD

Petersburg, Va., February 4.—(P)—James C. Ledford, of Hopewell, was in jail here today facing a highway robbery charge as the result of a robbery here yesterday in which George Barber, also of Hopewell, a companion of Ledford, was slain. Earl Wells, of Petersburg, was at liberty under a $500 bail with a technical charge of murder lodged against him. Police say that Wells and Harry Bishop, of this city, coming upon the two alleged highwaymen holding up two other men near the outskirts of the city intervened. Wells is said to have shot Barber during a tussle. He died a brief while later after fleeing a short distance with his companion.

Repent Ye!!!

NEW AND ASIS

Ye unregenerate who protest that 28c on the dollar was not paid for the American stock of furniture. Repent before it is too late. Accountants of great skill have examined the price tags—their report is that exactly 28c ON THE DOLLAR WAS PAID. Let the heathen run; let the hypocrite gnash his teeth; the squeak of ye loser is music to mine ear—But ye who believe and buy will live happily in homes of great beauty.

Beauty is marred,
when gums break down

Daily care may safeguard beauty and youth from such dread diseases as Pyorrhea, Gingivitis and Trench Mouth—diseases that attack undernourished, under-exercised gums—diseases that only expert dental care can thwart when once contracted.

So avail yourself of the skill of modern dentistry. Brush teeth and gums every morning and night, with the dentifrice designed to help keep gums firm and sound, so protecting them from disease. This dentifrice is Forhan's for the Gums.

Nobody's immune from the attack of dread gum diseases. As a preventive measure, see your dentist at least twice a year and start using Forhan's daily. When you use Forhan's, notice how much better gums look and feel; and the way it cleans teeth and helps to protect them from acids which cause decay will delight you. Get a tube from your druggist—today.

'MYSTIC KREWE' TAKES CITY AND CELEBRATES

Most Colorful Event of Season Staged by Tampa Group.

Tampa, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—Armed with sawed-off shotguns and automatic pistols instead of cutlasses and pikes, the members of the mystic krewe of Gasparilla sailed into port today, and captured the city for pleasure and carnival.

The present-day krewe numbers among its members the socially prominent youth of the city. With few exceptions, the annual "invasion" has been the feature of the Florida fair for 24 years and the most important and colorful event of the winter season.

Arriving at noon, the Buccaneers, ship, bristling with cannon and flying the "Jolly Roger," passed in review before Governor Carlton and city officials. The ship's company then took places on decorated floats, part of a long pageant that paraded through crowded streets to the fair grounds where the governor again reviewed the assembly and Mayor W. B. McKay delivered up the keys to the city.

The first day's festivities will end at a public ball tonight.

The reign of King Gasparilla XX and his queen will come to an end at a private ball tomorrow night when a new king and queen, elected by secret ballot, will appear, with maids and courtiers, before the krewe and a few special guests.

A new feature this year was the "X-rated X-Pirates," former krewe members who did not join the society this season. Their participation was not an opposition display but rather a burlesque of the society and of civic events of recent years. They had their own ship in the attacking fleet. Their uniforms were similar to those of the "regulars" but showed effects of long wear. Their float in the parade was occupied by convicts, robbers and "average boys" in "subdivision pants." Others resembled carriage starters and dashing representatives of the court of St. James. The "X-Pirates" have named their king and queen but unlike the krewe rulers, everybody knows who they are.

ALLEGED CHICKEN THIEVES JAILED; FACE 24 CHARGES

Two negroes, alleged by police to have stolen nearly 1,000 chickens from coops in the Center Hill district, are now in Fulton tower facing 24 charges following their arrest Monday morning. The suspects give their names as Robert Smith and Ivan Jackson.

County Police Lieutenant Carroll, in company with Officers Wilson and Vinson, arrested Smith early Monday morning while he had in his possession several hens said by officers to have been stolen. Smith confessed numerous raids, police said, and implicated Jackson.

GEORGIA GOVERNOR TO GO TO CAPITAL FOR INAUGURATION

Governor L. G. Hardman and members of his official staff will attend the inauguration of Herbert Hoover as president of the United States at Washington March 4, it was announced Monday by Adjutant General Homer C. Parker.

Plans had been considered for sending a military escort to Washington but it was found that the cost would be prohibitive. A circular letter to members of the official staff will be sent and the members will be invited to make the trip.

FIVE OFFICERS TO BE EXAMINED FOR POLICE CHIEF

At least five members of Atlanta's police force today will take the civil service examinations which all aspirants to the position of chief of police are required to pass. They are Detective John Lowe, Lieutenant J. T. Malcom, recently appointed head of the traffic department, and patrolmen J. A. McKibben, J. W. Macpherson, Jr., and O. L. Haymond. The examination will begin at 2 o'clock.

TO INVITE FAMOUS EDITOR TO SPEAK AT FORUM LUNCH

Merle Thorpe, editor of "Nation's Business," will be invited to address the forum luncheon of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce the afternoon of February 15, it was announced Monday following a meeting of the executive committee of the chamber of commerce.

Rev. N. R. H. Moor, forum chairman, was authorized to extend the invitation to Mr. Thorpe. Elaborate plans will be made for his reception and every effort put forth to assure a record-breaking attendance in the event of his acceptance, according to B. S. Barker, secretary and executive vice president of the chamber.

$15,000 DAMAGES ASKED BY VICTIM OF BICYCLE CRASH

W. E. Miller Monday filed suit against the Post-Telegraph Cable company and Jeff Jones, a telegraph messenger, for $15,000 damages. Miller alleges that Jones, on business for the defendant company, ran his bicycle into the plaintiff at the intersection of Forsyth and Garnett streets on July 30.

The plaintiff alleges that his injuries include shock, bruises and sprains to the extent of permanent injury. Hewlett and Dennis and Leon C. Greer filed the petition in the city court of Atlanta.

Asks Reimbursement Of Levee Districts For Flood Control Work

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—Adjutant of $1,200,000 by the secretary of war to reimburse levee districts for construction and maintenance of flood control work on tributaries of the Mississippi river was proposed in an amendment to the second deficiency appropriation bill offered today by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas.

COCA-COLA STOCKS ACTIVE IN MONDAY EXCHANGE TRADING

Brisk trading marked the appearance on the floor of the New York stock exchange Monday of the new Coca-Cola class A stock, 2,400 shares of this issue changing hands while 4,000 shares of Coca-Cola common were traded. Both the stocks showed an advance in price.

The common stock, which last week varied in price from 170 1/2 up to the closing figure Saturday of 178 1/2, opened ex-dividend Monday at 181 1/2, while the closing figure Monday was 185.

The first sale of class A was at 19 1/2, while it closed its first day on the exchange with a gain of 20

Notable French Visitors Arrive Today for Visit in Atlanta

Arriving today for several days' visit in Atlanta at the Biltmore hotel are Monsieur and Madame Daniel Michenot, of France, who will be the guests of the Alliance Française, of which Charles Lorrains is president. These distinguished visitors will be honored at a round of social gayeties during their stay here by a number of prominent Atlantans who are interested in France, its language and its customs. Monsieur Michenot is one of the official French lecturers of the Federation of French Alliances of the United States and Canada and at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon this foremost lecturer will give an address in the chapel of the theology building of Emory university. Preceding the lecture, Dr. and Mrs. Hal Davison will be hosts at luncheon at the Capital City club in honor of these notable guests, inviting to meet them Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lorrains, Madame Laure Lenoir, Professor and Mrs. N. A. Goodyear, Professor Peter Porokhovskikov and Mrs. W. A. Edwards. At 8 o'clock this evening former Governor John M. Slaton and Mrs. Slaton will entertain at a reception at their home on Peachtree road, honoring Monsieur and Madame Michenot, to which all members of the Alliance Française and the wives and husbands of members are invited.

Wednesday Monsieur Michenot will be the guest of the French department of the Girls' High school, and on the same day he and Madame Michenot and the officers of the French alliance will be entertained at luncheon at the Saint Luke's restaurant, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lorrains. Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock Mrs. Robert A. Smythe will give a tea at her home, 211 Fifteenth street, N. E., in honor of Monsieur and Madame Michenot, to which all members of the Alliance Française are invited.

The officers of the Alliance Française are Charles Lorrains, president; Mrs. John M. Slaton, vice president; Mrs. Harry M. Atkinson, vice president; Madame Laure Lenoir, secretary; Mrs. Hal M. Davison, treasurer.

Sugarless cereal means a fight

A little sweetening does away with an awful lot of trouble

CHILDREN'S meals should not be something to be dreaded. One of the most important of all dieting problems is to get children to eat enough bone-building, health-promoting foods. Ranking among the highest of foods for children are cereals, and yet, as an eminent food authority recently stated it, "Sugarless cereal means a fight."

He went on to advise mothers to make these necessary foods welcome and even looked forward to by the children through intelligent and judicious sweetening. Sugar in itself is the most perfect fuel to furnish energy for active children, and best of all it makes other necessary foods so easily and gladly eaten.

Children should not dread their meals. The wise mother or nurse, by an intelligent use of sugar, can enable children to enjoy all kinds of healthful cereals, fruits, vegetables and milk. Properly sweetened cereals also encourage the child to eat more milk. Sugar is Nature's ideal flavor. The Sugar Institute. (adv.)

Black will be a brilliant event of February 12. The luncheon was served in a private dining room of the club and the table was adorned with a charming centerpiece of white narcissus, freesias and roses, the dainty color scheme of green and white being carried out in every detail. Covers were placed for a group of close friends of the honor guest.

Mrs. Michael Hoke will entertain at a luncheon at her home on Peachtree road, in honor of this charming bride-elect and this evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady will give a bridge-supper at their home on Peachtree road, complimenting Miss Perkins and her fiancé.

Mrs. Henry Hirsch will be hostess at a luncheon on Monday, February 11, at her home on Peachtree road, complimenting Miss Perkins. Mr. and Mrs. Carson Sewell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. White, Jr., will entertain jointly at a buffet-supper Monday evening, February 11, complimenting the members of the Perkins-Black wedding party immediately following the rehearsal.

Speakers' Club Meets Tuesday.

The Speakers' club of the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression, 402 Wesley Memorial Church building, meets Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock with Mrs. Eula Howe presiding. As program chairman for the evening, Mrs. Howe is arranging an interesting program of short and witty speeches. A. B. Hollis will deliver a ten-minute address on the work of the "Convention Bureau of Atlanta."

Junior Music Club Holds Meeting.

The Junior Music club, composed of the piano and violin pupils of Mrs. Alice Cox Reins, and her assistant teachers, met Saturday at the home of Mrs. Reins in College Park. New members were received, a club song adopted, theory certificates explained, and an interesting program rendered by the members. The assistant teachers were introduced with their pupils and visitors from the different suburban centers where their classes are located. Announcements were made regarding the next club meeting when the remaining theory certificates of the year will be given and duet and duo work featured.

National President Service Star Legion To Be Honored Here

Among the prominent visitors of the week will be Mrs. William N. Irving, of Boston, Mass., national president of the Service Star Legion. The local chapters of the legion will entertain at luncheon in her honor Friday, February 8, in the banquet hall of the Atlanta Woman's club. Mrs. Marcus Beck, honorary president of Atlanta chapter, Service Star Legion, will preside over the luncheon, and Mrs. B. H. Cocke is general chairman in charge of arrangements.

February Will Be Gala Month For Fort McPherson Society

Fort McPherson, February 4.—The month of February promises to be a gala month at the garrison and the members of the military contingent will be busy dashing from one social occasion to another. An event of particular interest to the lovers of riding will be the riding breakfast to be given by the Fort McPherson Polo and Riding club at the Officers' club at the garrison, Sunday morning, February 10. The guests, including a prominent number of the military set and their friends, will assemble at the Officers' club at 8:30 o'clock and the ride will commence from there and continue for an enjoyable hour along the many inviting trails paths the post affords. At 9:30 o'clock the riders will return to the club where a tempting breakfast will be served. Each month the Polo and Riding club plans to entertain at a paper chase, hunt breakfast, or morning ride and the club members are most enthusiastic. Sunday's ride will be the first morning affair sponsored by the club and the club members are requested to accept the invitation at their earliest convenience in order that they may secure their favorite mounts.

A brilliant event will be the movie hall to be given by the Officers' club at the garrison at their clubrooms, Friday, February 22, from 9 until 11 o'clock. Each guest will attend dressed as his or her favorite film star and the club members will be in color and beauty. Prior to the ball, Captain and Mrs. Thomas H. Ramsey will entertain at their quarters at the garrison at a buffet supper. Their guest list will include 16 members of the military contingent.

Another lovely affair of the same evening will be the informal supper to be given by Lieutenant and Mrs. Gilbert Proctor at their quarters in the garrison. The guest list will include 16 members of the army social contingent.

The Valentine tea dance to be given by the Officers' club at their clubrooms, Friday, February 14, from 4 to 6 o'clock, will be an anticipated occasion of the month. Mrs. Robert J. Jorg, Jr., will act as official hostess for the afternoon.

Friday evening, preceding the hop at the Officers' club, Miss Helen Caffery will entertain at a buffet supper at her quarters at the garrison. The guests will include 30 members of the junior set of the garrison.

Thursday evening, Colonel and Mrs. Charles L. Foster will entertain at a bridge-dinner at their quarters at the garrison, the guest list to include a group of the military set.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Robert Griffith Turner will be hostess at a bridge-tea at her quarters at the post. Several tables will be arranged for the afternoon.

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough In a Hurry

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at five times the cost. From any drugstore, get 2½ ounce of Pinex. Put this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the bottle. At the same time, add a pinch of Pinex. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it. This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes away the inflammation. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active principle of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief for money refunded. —(adv.)

Helped at Change of Life

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine at the Change of Life. I would get blue spells and just walk the floor. I was nervous, could not sleep at night, and was not able to do my work. I know if it had not been for your medicine I would have been in bed most of this time and had a big doctor's bill. If women would only take your medicine they would be better."—Mrs. Anna Weaver, R. F. D. No. 2, Rose Hill, Iowa.

Atlanta Belles Entertained At Tampa Carnival

The society section of the Tampa, Fla., Sunday Tribune carried on its feature page photographs of two lovely Atlanta belles who are among the feted visitors at the Gasparilla carnival. Miss Louise Candler, beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Candler, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Wall, 2824 Central avenue, and Miss Rosalie Gunby, debutante daughter of Mrs. E. R. Gunby, who is visiting Miss Adelaide Mahoney, 113 Bermuda avenue, Davis Islands.

The following excerpt from the Tribune outlines some of the festivities of carnival week at which these charming Atlantans will be entertained.

Plans for entertainment of Gasparilla visitors claim the larger part of the social calendar this week, along with Gasparilla functions, the most important social events in Tampa society of the year.

The week is to be auspiciously started with a tea to be given by the Merry-makers club at its Davis Islands clubhouse this afternoon. This is an annual event planned by the club for members of the krewes, their wives and women guests.

Tea-Dance.

The krewes will invade the city tomorrow, and following the parade and check-up on "casualties," Jimmy W. will give a tea-dance at the Merry-makers club for Miss Louise Candler, of Atlanta, who is a home guest of his parents for Gasparilla, and Miss Frances Baker, of Jacksonville, another Gasparilla visitor who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George R. McKean. The krewes' carnival script dance will take place at the coliseum tomorrow night, too.

Tuesday will bring the coronation ball, and apparently the whole day is required for getting ready for the parade of such creations as may be chosen for the event, for no other festivities of importance have been announced that day, so far.

Miss Scott Weds Logan D. Thomson.

Mrs. L. F. Scott of 1228 Oxford road, announces the marriage of her daughter, Rosalie, to Logan D. Thomson, which occurred at Grace Methodist church February 2, Rev. T. R. Kendall officiating.

The art of paper making spread from China to Europe by means of the Arabs.

Valentine Tea-Dance Assembles Younger Set.

Profound interest centers among the younger set on the Valentine day tea-dance which will take place Thursday afternoon, February 14, at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Many parties are being arranged by the members of the schoolgirl and boy set of society, who will assemble on this occasion to celebrate St. Valentine with tea and dancing at this popular hotel. There will be a miniature mail box, where guests will place their valentines, which will be distributed among them during the afternoon.

Reservations may be made by calling Mr. Hummel at the Biltmore, Hemlock 5290.

Altar Society To Give Supper.

The ladies of the Altar society of the Immaculate Conception church will give the annual parish supper at the church from 5:30 to 8 o'clock Wednesday, February 6.

AIRPLANES CRASH IN MID-AIR, KILLING 2 FLIGHT STUDENTS

Pensacola, Fla., February 4.—(AP.)—A spectacular mid-air collision between two airplanes during a formation flight resulted in the death of Bonnell P. Howell, 24, and Andrew Brink, 21, flight students, at Pensacola, the naval training station here.

The accident occurred when Howell, a radio man, who was circling for a landing, crashed into a plane piloted by Brink, United States army pilot in reserve, who was flying in flight formation with two other planes.

Both planes were thrown out of control and crashed from an altitude of 700 feet before the pilots could take to their parachutes.

The planes, of the land type, landed a mile west of Old Cory field and both pilots were dead when bodies were extricated from the wreckage.

Brink, who was born in Wilmington, Del., is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Kennedy, of Wrentham, Mass.

Howell was born in Franklin, Texas, and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Leovonne Miller Howell, of Pensacola, and his parents in Franklin.

FATHER AND CHILD FOUND HANGING FROM SAME ROPE

Osborne, Kas., February 4.—(AP.)—The bodies of Albert Langley, 39, a farmer, and his 9-months-old child were found, suspended from the same pole, at a granary at Langley's home near here today.

Coroner J. W. S. Cross said Langley apparently took the child in his arms, fastened nooses on the rope about each of their necks and swung the child and himself from a rafter at the same time.

Domestic and financial worries were believed to have caused the act.

Payless Executives Childs' New Plan For Chain Restaurants

New York, February 4.—(AP.)—The payless job for some executives of the Childs' restaurant organization.

William Childs, who ousted three officers last week, has decreed that his wife, his brother and a nephew, elected to the vacancies must serve without pay. As chairman of the board he has cut his own salary 40 per cent.

The retrenchment was made in connection with the proxy fight which the Childs family faces to keep control of the company.

Childs regained control of the management of the company after a year's enforced retirement. A faction of stockholders blamed his policy of vegetarianism in the restaurants for a shrinkage of profits.

FRENCH PRESIDENT STRICKEN WITH FLU

Paris, February 4.—(AP.)—President Marmagne is the latest to feel the influenza. He was forced to cancel most of his day's appointments, but his physicians said that his case was a mild one and his condition was not considered serious.

ROUGHLEG THE HAWK GROWS HUNGRY.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

It spurs you on and sharpens wit.
Hunger never lets you quit.

—Old Mother Nature.

Roughleg the Hawk had come down to the Green Meadows just at the beginning of winter. His summer home was far north. Roughleg was in the habit of coming every year. He always thought of the Green Meadows.

"It's no use," said he at last. "It looks to me as if I shall have to go farther south. I don't want to. No, sir, I don't want to. But I cannot starve to death and that is what I shall do if I stay here without getting something to eat pretty soon. What is that little sparrow over there on the Meadows? As I live, it is a Mouse! He has come up on top of the snow to get some of the weed seeds."

It was so. It was Danny Meadow Mouse. The tops of some of the weeds stood out above the snow and these weeds were full of seeds. All Danny had to do was to sit up on the snow and help himself. It is because he can do this that Danny always likes plenty of snow. He is safe underneath it and at the same time it enables him to get a good living more easily.

Roughleg, like all members of the Hawk family, has wonderful eyes. It was a long distance from where he was to where Danny was sitting, but he saw and recognized Danny. He saw that Danny was sitting hard to him. Roughleg flew higher and higher. Then, when he thought he was high enough, he moved toward Danny Meadow Mouse. He had very little hope of success, but Danny was the first Mouse he had seen that day and he intended to try for him anyway.

But he was only halfway when Danny suddenly dived down into a little hole in the snow and disappeared. "Just my luck!" murmured Roughleg, and kept on to his perch in the pine tree.

REMOSE DRIVEN SLAYER GIVES UP AFTER FOUR YEARS

Seattle, Wash., February 4.—(AP.)—Salo behind the bars, where remorse over his crime had driven him, Harvey Lee Sellaver, 35, tonight was awaiting the legal action which will take him back to Kingston, N. J., to stand trial for the slaying of his 16-year-old sweetheart, more than four years ago.

Sellaver appeared in the police station late last night worn and haggard, and anxious to unburden himself of the secret which has weighed upon him since August 4, 1924, when he shot and killed Sarah Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of a farmer, who had refused permission for him to marry the girl.

The home of Joseph A. Johnson, of Aqueduct, a small settlement near Kingston, when Johnson tried to elope with Sellaver and the girl, the pair had many secret meetings, and finally formulated a suicide pact. Sellaver told police here. After shooting the girl with a 22 caliber weapon, Sellaver lacked the courage to kill himself, and although he stayed with the body of his slain sweetheart for four days, he then disappeared, leaving a note hinting at suicide.

He was sought for questioning for a time, but no trace was found of him until he appeared voluntarily here. Since the shooting he had traveled across the continent and worked in many places under the name of E. L. Meyer.

Styles by ANETTE Paris—New York.

SMART ONE-PIECE DRESS.

There isn't any fashion any smarter for practical wear for wets of 2, 4, 6 and 8 years, than the one-piece smocked or shirred dress illustrated in Style No. 385. The fullness falls from a diminutive round yoke, which achieves splendid width to hemline, and through body of dress to allow plenty of freedom these young folk need for activities. For the 4-year child 1 3/4 yards of 40-inch material is sufficient to make it. It is especially dainty in Nile green chambray with white ruffling of pique, sprigged dimity, tiny blue and white checked gingham with plain blue and English prints. Flesh-colored crepe de chine is decidedly French for more "dress-up" occasions. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully. Emb. No. 11152 (blue) 15 cents extra.

PATTERSON DENIES HE SPENT FUNDS OF BANK WRONGLY

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(AP.)—Charges that he misappropriated $50,000 of the Federal Reserve Bank of Macon today were branded false by George E. Patterson, former executive vice president of the bank. Mr. Patterson was at liberty after $25,000 bond following his arrest on a warrant sworn out by a department of justice auditor, who has been working on the bank's books.

The Fourth National Bank was closed two months ago and reorganization was made. Subsequently stockholders have been paid a 50 per cent stock dividend.

Mr. Patterson, a former Jacksonville, Fla., banker and federal bank examiner, denied the charges against him and said "the whole affair will be straightened out satisfactorily to all concerned within a few days."

S-4 RESCUE TESTS WILL OPEN TODAY OFF SMITH SHOALS

Key West, Fla., February 4.—(AP.)—The crew of the tender Mallard was ready tonight to sail at daylight tomorrow for a series of "rescue" tests off Smith shoals to determine whether they can escape from a sunken submarine without outside aid.

A number of men will be aboard the submarine when it is sunk, but the tender Mallard will stand by in case of accident.

The nature of the tests, which will continue through next Friday, was not divulged in detail prior to the departure of the two craft.

The men, selected to go down in the submarine, will wear "lungs" or an apparatus resembling a gas mask. These masks will be charged with oxygen to permit the men to breathe while the tests are being made.

DIZZY IN MORNING, ALL OUT OF SORTS

Ohio Man Says Everything He Ate Seemed To Disagree With Him—Praises Black-Draught For Relief.

Buena Vista, Ohio.—"I was always in good health until the last few years," says Mr. John C. Malone, of this place, "I began to suffer with headache and biliousness."

"I had a hurting through the middle part of my body which seemed to come from indigestion. I would get constipated, and then feel all out of sorts."

"I would get up in the morning feeling dizzy, and everything I ate would disagree with me. I used to wonder when I had a spell like this."

"Some one asked me why I did not try Black-Draught. I got a box of it because my friend took it, and I wanted to be just the medicine I needed. I never take anything else."

"When I feel a spell coming on, I begin by taking a dose of Black-Draught, dry at night. I continue to take it for several days, diminishing the dose each night, and in a short while I am feeling fine. It is all the medicine I need. I recommended it to others, for I have found it splendid."

Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

Sold by all druggists. Price 25 cents.

SQUIBB'S
Dental
Cream

POISONS, caused by decaying teeth, often seep through the entire body. They rob you of health and vigor and bring on sickness and early old age.

You cannot give your teeth too much care, particularly at The Danger Line—where teeth meet gums.

It is in the tiny V-shaped crevices that the acids form, causing tooth decay and dangerous gum irritations. Squibb's Dental Cream, made with more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, effectively neutralizes them. And particles of the Milk of Magnesia remain in your mouth to give you protection afterwards. 40c a generous tube at all druggists.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. In a Night

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please

Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes.

Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men.

Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

A study of the analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts!

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to be he work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

LOSE WEIGHT Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effects on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro poultice. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the

SAVANNAH MINISTERS TO WAR AGAINST VICE

Savannah, Ga., February 4.—(P)—The Protestant Ministerial union, composed of the majority of Protestant pastors in Savannah, is engaged in an investigation of moral conditions in the city and county and at today's meeting reappointed Rev. Silas Johnson, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, as chairman of the special committee to continue the work with a view of improving conditions.

Specifically, it was indicated, the committee is engaged in an investigation of speakeasies and other places alleged to be operating without the law. It was stated that officers of the law had shown every disposition to co-operate.

A report submitted by Dr. Johnson showed that the ministerial union was not attempting to spy upon people but was engaged in a campaign to enlist public support by revealing conditions.

The remaining members of the committee are Rev. W. A. Taliferro, Bull Street Baptist church; Rev. A. L. Patterson, Hull Memorial Presbyterian church; Rev. J. R. Farris, pastor First Christian church, and Rev. Alfred Shelley, of the Seaman's Bethel.

Griff Grinstead Must Die Feb. 22 In Electric Chair

Mount Vernon, Ga., February 4.—(P)—In Montgomery superior court at 5 o'clock today Judge Eschel Graham reserved Griff Grinstead to die in the electric chair February 22.

Attorneys for Grinstead asked for the full time limit as to elapsed time between sentence and execution, based on an expressed intention of making a plea to the governor and the prison commission for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment.

Defense attorneys have also procured from trial jurors a signed petition asking for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment.

Friends of the convicted man are circulating petitions to this effect. Grinstead was sentenced to die for the murder of County Policeman Homer Stuckey on July 13, 1928.

TRIAL OF SUSPECT IN SLAYING TO GET RISK FUND OPENS

Richmond, Va., February 4.—(P)—Murley L. Craig, of Richmond, was today indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of W. P. Ligon last August 12, by a special grand jury here today.

The prosecution in the case contends that Craig, who is held in $5,000 bond, killed Ligon and married his widow to obtain insurance amounting to approximately $2,000.

Ligon came to his death in the James River, near here, officers testified at a preliminary hearing, when the rowboat in which he was riding with Craig capsized. Craig contends that Ligon was drowned when the boat accidentally capsized, while the prosecution advances the theory that Craig struck Ligon with a blunt instrument, stunning and severely injuring him, and then overturned the boat, causing Ligon's death by drowning. Craig, it was testified, called for help and was rescued.

Within a few weeks after Ligon's death, it was brought out at the preliminary hearing, Craig married Ligon's widow.

AMBULANCE TESTS ROADS KING WILL COVER ON JOURNEY

London, February 4.—(P)—A trip today by an ambulance from Buckingham Palace to Craigwell House, near Bognor, caused rumors that King George had been transferred to the Sussex shore, but the trip was only a rehearsal to try the roads and determine how long it would take to transport the royal patient by that method.

No definite date for the king's removal has been set, but unofficial information named Thursday as the time.

28 TRUE BILLS FOUND Dry Act Involved in Most of Cases.

Twenty-eight true bills were returned by the federal grand jury when it opened a three-day session here Monday. Most of the cases involved violation of the prohibition act. Three were postoffice cases and one was a motor vehicle theft act. Seven no bills were returned Monday.

SAVANNAH TO HEAR BISHOP BEAUCHAMP

Savannah, Ga., February 4.—(P)—Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, of Atlanta, and Dr. Onderdock, of the west Texas and Mexican missions of the Methodist church, south, will be among the speakers at a Methodist missionary banquet to be held here on February 15 for the Savannah district members. This banquet will be the forerunner of a mission campaign, the collections for which will be taken up this month. Each church in the district will arrange its individual campaign following the banquet.

MACON EXPECTS 5,000 SHRINERS ON FEB. 19

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(P)—Five thousand visitors are expected at Macon on Tuesday, February 19, when Frank C. Jones, of Houston, Texas, imperial potentate of the Shrine, pays his annual visit to this city.

Word came from Atlanta today that Yaarah Temple of that city is coming with its band and patrol on a special train, in acceptance of an invitation from Al Sihah Temple to take part in the ceremonial and festivities planned here for the imperial potentate.

Invitations also have been extended to Alcazar Temple in Montgomery and Alce Temple, Savannah, to take part in the event.

Dr. W. Crossland, past imperial potentate of the Shrine, is a member of the Alcazar Temple and he has informed local Shrine officials that he is certain that a number of the members of the Divan of that temple will accompany him here to meet the imperial potentate and it is possible that the band, patrol and a big delegation from the temple also will come.

There will be a meeting of Al Sihah Temple tomorrow night to appoint committees and to complete arrangements for the ceremonial and for the entertainment of the imperial potentate and visiting Shrines.

MARILYN MILLER'S DIVORCED PARENTS GET NEW LICENSE

Los Angeles, February 4.—(P)—Caro G. Miller, 57, and Vada V. Miller, 56, divorced parents of Marilyn Miller, of Holies fame, applied for a marriage license here today, the result of reconciliation efforts of their daughter.

The couple, separated ten years, addressed each other as "papa" and "mama" at the license bureau. The marriage will take place probably Friday. They plan to live in the Hollywood Hills.

Marion, Ill., February 4.—(P)—Joseph Kuykendall, 87, of Vienna, a civil war captain under General John A. Logan, was killed in an automobile collision here.

COTTON SHIPPERS DISCUSS CHANGES IN TRANSIT RULES

COTTON SHIPPERS DISCUSS CHANGES IN TRANSIT RULES

Cotton shippers from several southern states met here Monday to prepare an answer to demands of railroads that cotton transit regulations be changed. Executive sessions were held yesterday but today the shippers will meet with representatives of the carriers with the hope of reaching an agreement.

Among cotton organizations represented was the Atlantic Cotton Association and the Cooperative Cotton Growers' association. Several chambers of commerce were represented, also. The meeting was held at the Henry Grady hotel.

Women, Weak, Tired, Rundown and Nervous or suffer ovarian pains, pains in the lower part of the stomach, bearing down pains, female weaknesses, headaches, backache, melancholia, dizziness, nervous changes, flushes of heat, fleeting and indelible pains, whites, painful or irregular periods, should write to Mrs. Elice Lovell, 6109 Main, Kansas City, Mo.

She will entirely FREE and without charge to the inquirer advise of a convenient home method whereby she and other women say they have successfully relieved similar troubles.

The most common expression of these thankful women is "I feel like a new woman." And others, "I don't have any pains whatever anymore." "I can hardly believe myself that your Wonderful Method has done so much good for me in such a short time." Write today. This advice is entirely free to you. She has nothing to sell.

How Science Fights Fat

Some 25 years ago, scientists found a great cause of excess fat. It lies in an under-active gland. By thousands of tests on fat animals they found that treating this gland led to loss of weight and gain in health and vigor. That discovery changed the methods of dealing with excess fat.

That is the basic factor in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for over 20 years—millions of boxes of them. They did not starve or overwork. They simply took four tablets daily until weight came down to normal.

Users told the others the results. The use of Marmola spread. Now you see the results in every circle. Excess fat is disappearing. Slender figures are the rule. New youth and beauty, new vitality, has come to countless people in this modern way.

Consider these facts. Then, if you are seeking like results, get them in this scientific way. Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. As fat departs and new vitality returns you will know exactly why. Try the method which for 20 years has brought such delightful results to so many. Do it now. You owe that to yourself.

Marmola's prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

"The Store All Women Know"

"A delicate subject —but these girls must be told"

—a dean of women says in discussing this phase of modern feminine hygiene

Unfortunately this delicate subject is seldom discussed. Now, a new patented process deodorizes this scientific sanitary pad, which excels in comfort and ease of disposability

EVEN among girls who are very frank with each other, there is a question of daintiness, of fastidious personal care, that is unfortunately seldom mentioned. Yet many women are unconsciously guilty. At certain times they are seriously offensive to others. With realization comes constant worry.

Today these fears are ended. Science has discovered a way to counteract this offense.

Kotex not completely deodorizes* Kotex has brought a new idea of feminine hygiene to women all over the world. In the past ten years they have learned new comfort, new ease of mind through this scientifically designed sanitary protection.

Now, after years of work, a process has been perfected that completely ends all odors. In Kotex laboratories the one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved.

Shaped to fit, too Because corners of the pad are rounded and tapered, it may be worn without evidence under the most clinging gown. There is none of that conspicuous bulkiness so often associated with old-fashioned methods. You can adjust the filler. Cellulose absorbent wadding takes up 16 times its weight in moisture, 3 times more absorbent than cotton itself. It is easily disposed of, no laundering is necessary. A new process makes it softer than ever before.

Buy a box today...45c for a box of twelve. On sale at all drug, dry goods and department stores; also through vending cabinets in rest-rooms by West Disinfecting Co.

Use Super-size Kotex Formerly 90c—Now 65c Super-size Kotex differs from Regular Kotex only in giving the extra protection of additional layers of Cellulose absorbent wadding. The advantages in using it in connection with the Regular are thus obvious. Disposable the same way. Doctors and nurses consider it indispensable where extra protection is needed. At the new low price, you can easily afford to buy one box of Super-size to every three of Regular Kotex. Its extra layers of filler mean much in added comfort and security.

THEATER REVIEWS

Great Reception Given Howard Bandshow Police

Even the elements sent down the million-dollar parade of hail and the gay, swirling confetti of snow Monday night to join the several thousand Atlantans who crowded the Howard theater to capacity to welcome back the stage band police, a policy which was brilliantly and delightfully inaugurated by Louis Lowry, now band leader, and his orchestra in "Lo Everybody."

Outside, Monday night, it was rather strange to see the crowds who had braved the sleet and hail and a flecking snow to welcome the return of a stage band police after many months of darkness, but once inside, their action was the most logical thing in the world.

Harry Savoy, comic cutup and an alibi for anybody's sixteenth of 12 girls and the new band together with Mr. Lowry make up a show which with the feature picture, "Abie's Irish Rose," crisscrossed the iconoclastic inclinations of Willard Patterson, head man for Public Theaters in this neck of the woods.

There was applause enough for every person in the crowd; there was applause enough to be given up and saved for a future rainy day, which, after all, we predict will not be in store for the Howard theater as long as Louis Lowry and his Musical Maniacs, and the artistic genius of Emmett Rogers, producer of the shows, continue to hold forth.

Musie Minded.
The band-rappings began the moment the announcement trailer of the overture was flashed on the screen. That audience was music minded, and no fooling. They were there to welcome the musicians back after many months' absence and what a welcome it was!

But the applause welcome for the pit orchestra was but a prelude to the welcome given to the band which followed by being the owner of a fine singing voice. He is just the temperament and the type to click with Atlanta audiences.

Southern Production.
The presence of the noted Gambarello herself could not have added any whiff to the thunderous reception accorded the Gambarello girls, quite the most marvelous ballet outfit that Atlanta has seen.

lanta has seen in all its picture house production days.
"Lo Everybody," in its entirety, is the work of the new southern production department, and particularly of Emmett Rogers, a master of the art, with the musical score and arrangements under the supervision of Alex Kesse. The production is splendidly staged and the scenery is clever and new and fresh.

WAGNER PLAYERS END ENGAGEMENT; ARE DISBANDED

The local engagement of the Charles L. Wagner players at the Erlanger theater has come to a close, and the company will not resume its production here after the engagement of the Theater Guild company. It was announced Monday night by the company. The company left Atlanta Monday for New York and other cities to accept other engagements.

Louis Wagner, manager of the Erlanger theater, is working on a plan under which a resident producing company will be brought to Atlanta in a few weeks, and it is expected that this company will present for its opening attraction "The Trial of Mary Dugan." It is understood that this company will be under the direction of Horace Sinsler, in the event present plans are carried out.

It originally was planned for the Wagner company to alternate in Atlanta and Birmingham. Business in Birmingham did not justify its opening in that city, and for a time preparations were being made to have the company play in Atlanta permanently. Lookings at the Erlanger theater, however, led to the decision to disband the present company.

RIALTO FEATURE, AND GIRL STAR, THRILL REVIEWER
Fire—beautiful fire—much hotter than the famous blaze that once threatened the world's crime metropolis, swept the screen of the Rialto theater Monday afternoon in the person of vivacious Audrey Ferris, starred in Warner Brothers' talking-ops, "Fanny Bragge."

In this vehicle the romance is simply direct; the action is fast; the characters, every one of them, are wonderful; the direction is marvelous; the motif is exhilarating; the photography is stupendous. And, oh, well, the picture is a bang, zip and wow. We can think of no other "going-out-of-business and conflagration sale" adjectives.

The story has to do with the extravagant daughter of a wealthy man, who experiences adventure that would give Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday an inferiority complex, were they living today. All in an effort to save her father from the prison walls that her liberality and obnoxiousness had laid imminent.

The movie is directed by George Fawcett, Myrna Loy, Wallace MacDonald, Eddie Gribbon, H. Cooley and Virginia Sales. Fox Movietone news, a Movietone musical feature, Irene Stone singing "Latest Song" via Vitaphone complete the delectable list of entertainment.

CLEVER PROGRAM, EXTRA GOOD FILM, KEITH OFFERING

Alma Neilson, unconventional but exceptionally talented dancer, with the aid of her "gang" of seven men, provides the patrons with a few minutes of fast and clever entertainment to top the good variety bill current at the Keith.

Miss Neilson, doing all of her dancing without the aid of the usual padded slippers, has a rare combination of grace and strength. She does some very difficult and bizarre steps without once appearing awkward. Five of her assistants perform creditably in an orchestra and three of these also do some vocal tripping that is highly acceptable. The other two prove themselves as capable at soft-soled and eccentric dancing as Miss Neilson is at her specialty.

The bill is opened by the King brothers, who offer a musical act having all of the old features and some new ones. Haynes and Beck, a dialogue team, are next in line and hand out comedy that takes well. Syd Morehouse is a singing, whistling and talking monologist, and does all well. He crosses his all with a dramatic rendering of "Sweethearts on Parade," using special lighting effects, and this is the best thing in the act.

"Adoration" was, to this writer, a pleasant surprise. Its theme, love understood, is not new, but it is handled with a restraint and artistry which best bring out its ever-perfect appeal.

Starting in the palace of imperial Russia, it moves swiftly through revolution and adversity to its finish in a Paris taxi, with no lagging moments and no weak spots.

Billie Dove is as beautiful and charming as she always is, and in addition performs subtle bits of acting which are really commendable. That old favorite, Antonio Moreno, gives a good interpretation to a difficult part, and the two stars are ably assisted by Lucy Dorrance and Nicholas Soussan.

'GALAXY OF FREAKS' HEADLINE CAPITOL BILL THIS WEEK
Many of the strange and curious people from Coney Island, New York, are on display at Loew's Capitol theater this week in "A Night at Luna Park," the headline attraction on the vaudeville bill. While this is a "galaxy of freaks" it is by no means offensive like some acts of this character which are really repulsive. The assembled join in the performance. The star of the troupe is Sylvie Chester, half man and half woman. He, she and "off" offers an odd and unusual performance.

Luna Park act is directed by "Coney Island Charley," famous character of the famous show, who does the "in-side" lecturing. Among the others with the troupe are Marie Devore, fire eater; Colonel Casper, smallest father in the world; Jack Huber, the arm-wrestler; and a number of other acts.

Harry Breen, "nut" comedian, provides a smoothly flowing stream of nonsense which pleased the crowd. The comedian is assisted by some original ideas and makes a good act out of nothing at all.

Peace and Nelson, writers of popular songs, offer a pleasing sketch in which they sing some of their songs of the past and also sing their latest song.

Boyce and Evans, dancers, inject some novelty in the usual song and dance turn and they received much applause from the crowd Monday.

The opening turn is offered by Helen Carlson, "Vaudeville's Viking Venus." She presents a pretty original act with musical numbers.

The feature picture is "The Last Warning," a working ghost story with many thrilling scenes and startling situations. It is well constructed and well acted by a capable cast, headed by Laura La Plante.
—PAUL STEVENSON.

WEIRD MYSTERY AT METROPOLITAN PROVIDES THRILLS
A mystery tale which will hold its own with any of the screen thrillers of the season, is to be seen this week at the Metropolitan theater in "Seven Footprints to Satan," a bizarre picture with a thriller title.

With a thrill for every millimeter of film, the picture relates the strange adventures of a people who are about to be launched on the well-known ocean of matrimony, when they step into a limousine, the door is locked and they are whisked away to the den of the devil.

Imagine that! And the girl, Thelma Todd, must take seven steps to reach before she can attain matrimonial happiness. The story is refreshing because of its originality and delightful because of its treatment.

In addition to the feature, the program presents "Caught in the Act," a Mack Sennett comedy; Jane Green and company in a Vitaphone novelty and Fox Movietone news.

Arkansas Golf Play-Off Won By Mehlhorn

Wild Bill Beats Cruickshank and Horton Smith in 18-Hole Tourney Climax.

Hot Springs, Ark., February 4.—(AP) Wild Bill Mehlhorn, bedazzler of the golf world within the past fortnight, added new luster to his record today by winning the south-central open, his third successive major winter tournament.

After tying Bobby Cruickshank, the veteran Scot, and Horton Smith, young Joplin, Mo., professional, with a 72-hole card of 290 yesterday, Mehlhorn came back to repulse them at every turn today in an 18-hole play-off for the title. Ramming out a perfect 36-24-70, two below par, he was two strokes ahead of Smith and six strokes better off than Cruickshank.

Mehlhorn's card compared with par: Cruickshank out, 343 434 344-36; Mehlhorn out, 344 434 344-36; Horton Smith out, 344 434 344-36; Cruickshank out, 343 434 343-37; Mehlhorn out, 344 434 344-36; Horton Smith out, 344 434 344-36.

Since the first of the year, Mehlhorn's record includes a record 271 for competitive golf to win the El Paso Open, 277 record cards for the eight-year-old Texas open at San Antonio, and a 290 here with a par slashing round in the play-off.

His record was with a near perfect card as was witnessed in the five-year-old south central tournament with a putting touch in a class to himself and his iron and wood shots near perfect.

The cards of Smith and Cruickshank: Cruickshank out, 344 434 344-37; Horton Smith out, 344 434 344-37; Cruickshank out, 343 434 343-37; Mehlhorn out, 344 434 344-36; Horton Smith out, 344 434 344-36.

While the slender Missourian brought home a card good enough usually to take first place, he lacked the all-round perfection of Mehlhorn and but for a couple of Wild Bill's putts near the finish that fell short by a couple of inches on each occasion he would have been even four further back.

Both of these would have given Mehlhorn birdies but with a two-stroke advantage and the home green in sight he took them lightly.

Smith's failure came in putting, many of his cup attempts carrying a savor being on the edge in the hole. And then, too, twice he had putts for a couple of feet to sink and the ball rimmed the cup.

Cruickshank was even less favored, getting a number of bad slices and hooks from the tees, two poor approaches and any number of short or over shots.

With the exception of the short putts on the last three greens, Mehlhorn didn't miss a green stroke all day. Though the home green worked with uncanny magnetism; often he was well away to 10 feet from the cup but never once did he fail to hole out until late in the match.

From a gallery standpoint, however, the biggest kick of the day came on the dogleg 12th and it was a beautiful sight to see Mehlhorn's ball roll into the cup with a full bend, Mehlhorn was at the leg with his tee shot and then on his second, an iron attempt, he dubbed it and was in the hole but after being 75 yards away. He went into the trap with an "explosion," however, and was only a few feet from the pin and down in a hard put.

This recovery apparently took Smith's flag down as he was only a stroke higher coming up. Smith gets 8300 and Cruickshank 8000. Other purses were distributed last night.

PENSACOLA DRAWS BIG GOLFING STARS.
Hot Springs, Ark., February 4.—(AP) The winter golf pilgrimage to-night turned to Pensacola on the next leg of its long tour from Louisville by way of California, Texas and Arkansas to Pinehurst, where the season closes.

"Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, setting one of the most sensational paces in the history of the links with three straight tournament victories, hopes to add his fourth in the northwest Florida city.

Horton Smith, Billy Burke, Ed Dudley, Al Espinosa, Craig Wood, Tony Manero, Tommy Armbray, Henry Cotton, Henry and Al Cui, Joe Kirkwood, "Willard" Henderson, Jim Martineau, Carl Anderson, Ralph Miner, John Dawson, Chicago amateur; Harold Long and John Rodgers, all well known, also will be in Pensacola for the first round Friday.

Johnny Golden expects to return from the east in time to play in the Pensacola event. He is a member of professionals already in Florida and is expected to make the field one of the best of the winter.

Famous Golf Shots & 1928 Key Shot of a Record Round

BY BASIL G. WYRICK.
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
Of all the thrilling shots made during Mrs. Melvin Jones' record round of 73 over the No. 1 course at Olympia fields last summer that caught sportsman's eye recalls only one.

That was a hazardous spoon shot, the eighth green, when Mrs. Jones believes this shot bolstered up her nerve and kept down the score which ran away with her medalist honors in the Chicago championship.

To achieve this score of one over men's par on a course where national championships have been held, Mrs. Jones performed many miraculous stunts. She holed out from a trap for an eagle, sat long iron shots down alongside the can and ran down putts of 30 and 40 feet. Even these things faded alongside that spoon shot at the eighth.

After that shot anything was possible. Mrs. Jones riddled the green with a longish drive which left her 150 yards from the pin, but slightly to the left. This made her approach considerably more difficult, because an enormous tree intervened. The ball had to be lifted over the tree and caused to duck immediately and hold the narrow green which from this angle was almost crosswise to the pin.

The shot was a trifle stiff for an iron, as to achieve the distance the trajectory would be too flat to carry the tree and the steep approach to the green. Mrs. Jones chose a spoon and played a powerful shot, cutting well under the ball and drawing the club head across its surface.

The shot was perfect, the ball rose dizzily, skimmed over the tree, carried past the bank and landed in the hole. The hole, it landed 15 feet past the hole, but so powerful was the backspin imparted that it jerked backwards three feet nearer.

City Champs Facing Hard Court Game

Cadets Seek Revenge for Beating Earlier in Season; Boys' Meets U. S. B.

The Boys' High and Tech High basketball teams will meet on the Henry Grady court Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, it was decided yesterday at a conference between Purple and Smith officials.

The game was postponed from last Friday night and will be the only meeting in the tournament for the city prep tournament next week.

Paul Rosser, athletic director at Boys' High, said that since there are no other games between Tech and Boys' will be planned in the event they come through their preliminary matches in the tournament and meet February 18 for the city title. In the event either team is defeated, however, it is likely they will play sometime next week.

Georgia Military academy's basketball team seeks revenge from Tech High when this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the G. M. A. court in College Park.

The Smiths defeated the Cadets two weeks ago at Henry Grady, 35 to 32, and another victory will make them outstanding favorites to win the city prep tournament, starting next Monday in the Atlanta Athletic club.

Boys' High is the only other city prep team to win over the Cadets this season. Other prep games of the day will bring together Harts High and University School for Boys on the Henry Grady court at 3:30 p. m., and Tate High against Decatur at Decatur at 7:30 p. m. Boys should have little trouble defeating U. S. B. although the University school has proved a stumbling block throughout the year.

Despite several setbacks Decatur is expected to trouble Tate. The suburbanians have a close guarding quintet which held the powerful Smithies to a 25 to 27 score last week. Tech High defeated the Cadets last week through ability to ring long shots. Huster Mott had his eye on the basket and shot constantly from the side the Cadet defense. On a strange court today, G. M. A. will doubtless hold the pace-setters to a lower total and Tech High will probably trip the city champions.

In the tournament set for February 11, 12 and 13, Boys' High must meet the first game of the upper brackets and tie the G. M. A. in the second round, providing both teams come through their opening matches. Boys' noted the Cadets, 33 to 25, in the first round, and will find the going rough in the tournament.

Purple is Past.
The Purple team has been flashing a furious passing offense and a tight defense which may carry it over the Cadet mixup. Inability to make the Purple team has been costing the Purple many points in the past two extra periods and will find the going rough in the tournament.

Dempsey Asks Order To Halt Strib's Flying

Jack Instructs Attorneys To Apply for Injunction Against Georgian.

Miami Beach, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—Several opinions centered about the announcement today that Jack Dempsey, promoter of the Stribling-Sharkey fight, had instructed attorneys to file injunction proceedings to keep Young Stribling from flying in airplanes or riding motorcycles until after his February 27th fight.

Stribling said that he had nothing to say as yet, although he added that he might speak for himself later.

"That's too bad," Dempsey said. "Flying affords the kid the best education he can get. I guess they are within their rights if they want to keep him from flying, but he will have to find some other kind of relaxation."

"Ma" Stribling welcomed Dempsey's move to keep her son from flying, saying that as far as she was concerned, no court injunction would be necessary.

During the argument as to whether Young Stribling should fly, "Pa" took $10,425 in cash to the ticket office in Miami Beach to purchase fight tickets for friends in Georgia.

Dempsey announced during the day that he and Sharkey have been in a fight at a field near Tampa, Fla., last night, but said that no decision has been made on the invitation.

Stribling Takes Road.—Stribling got in two and one-half miles of road work on a Miami Beach golf course tonight, and his opponent will go into the training ring tomorrow afternoon for the benefit of news cameramen. Sharkey will not get down to steady training until later on, he said.

Dempsey announced today the opening of branch ticket offices in Tampa, Jacksonville and Palm Beach, with an additional office has been opened in Miami Beach.

List of possible referees for the fight was made public today: Dave Miller, Philadelphia; Dave Miller, Philadelphia; Dave Miller, Philadelphia; Ed Dickerson, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Lou Magnolia and Jack O'Sullivan, New York; Max Hinkle, Cleveland; Slim McClelland, Detroit, and two Massachusetts referees who were unnamed.

The list will be submitted to the managers of the two fighters by Dempsey, who has asked that they reach an agreement a week before the fight. If the third man in the ring has not been selected by that time, Dempsey will make the selection, he said.

SHARKEY WILL APPEAR IN EXHIBITION BOAT.—Tampa, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight who will meet Young Stribling at Miami Beach on February 27, will appear in an exhibition at the 116th street artillery barracks here tonight.

Sharkey will work against his own sparring partners in a four or six round exhibition, which will feature an all-heavyweight card now being prepared by Downing. The Boston job is expected to arrive here Friday morning, returning to Miami Saturday. Dempsey has been invited to accompany Sharkey here and is said to be considering accepting.

SCHMELING SIGNS WITH GARDEN.—New York, February 4.—(AP)—The fight future of Max Schmeling, one of the brightest heavyweight prospects of a decade, was placed squarely in the hands of the Madison Square Garden corporation today.

Colonel John S. Hammond, head of the garden since the death of Tex Rickard, brokered the Garden youngster who knocked out Johnny Risko last Friday night into a corner and came out of the clinch with Schmeling's signature on a contract giving the garden exclusive rights to the fighter's services for two years. If Schmeling wins the heavyweight championship in the near future, he is expected to defend the title for Hammond.

Under terms of the contract, which included financial guarantees that were not revealed, Schmeling will box only in either New York or Boston gardens or in outdoor shows promoted by the corporation in other cities. The outcome reproduction in looks and action of Jack Dempsey may fight for other promoters, but only with the consent of the garden.

With the signing of the contract, Schmeling prepared to sail for Germany February 13 for a vaudeville tour. While in his homeland, Max is expected to fight the mortgage on the famous home of the German giant, who received for annihilating Risko in nine rounds. He will return to America in April for a series of outdoor shows which Hammond believed would lead to a title match with Jack Dempsey.

Schmeling agreed to terms after Hammond obtained a release from a contract the German giant signed for a match in the Boston garden against Con O'Kelly, Irish heavyweight, February 15. Schmeling will fill the Boston date upon his return from Germany.

Boy of 9 Years Wins Ski Jump

Racine, Wis., February 4.—(AP)—A nine-year-old ski jumper, Stanley Zarebski, of Ironwood, Mich., who was too small to carry his skis to the top of the Racine Ski club's slide, jumped 72 feet and 62 feet to take first place in the tournament here yesterday before about 15,000 persons.

HAWK-EYE IN SPORTS

SOMETIMES in our search for excitement we emulate the example of the young man in the fable who searched the world over for diamonds and finally found them in his own back yard. We go to great college games and club games and professional games for very choice fodder, and this season particularly we have found some very choice fodder to chew upon.

But right in our own amateur leagues there is a race which needs take a back seat to no conference race from the standpoint of interest and competition. We refer to the Scott league wherein four teams out of six are tied for first place and a fifth within a scant few points of the lead with the season half gone.

THE Southern Bell, Georgia Power, Swift & Co., and Atlanta-Lowry teams are in a quadruple tie for the lead and the Pullman company team has beaten three of the leaders in the last three games and threatens to replace one of them in another two or three contests.

This league is one of the fastest in the amateur loop and the interest bred by such a race is naturally large. Three games are played each Wednesday night at the Atlanta Athletic club court and it is no wonder they are largely attended.

Hamm, Sprinter and Jumper.

THE story of Edward Hamm, world champion broad jumper, is so well known that its repetition here is not necessary, but his story as a sprinter has been hidden in the shadow of his jumping for a long time.

Ed Hamm is known throughout the world as the greatest running broad jumper of all time. He has set records and will set other records in the jumping pit that the world will shoot at many a year, but the question now arises, "what will Edward do for amusement when he can't find anybody to jump against?"

HE'll start beating the best of them in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. That's what he'll do. Around this country where Edward Hamm has risen from obscurity to the heights as the best hopper of them all, the folks know he can run, too. But even around here we sometimes forget that he's an ace among the sprinters. About two years ago your correspondent had a conversation with Coach Hal Barron about track prospects at Georgia Tech.

In that conversation much was said of Ed Hamm. Hal Barron was in something of a quandary. Here was a great broad jumper and a great sprinter. Which was he to specialize in? At that time Hal Barron said, "That boy will some day jump 26 feet if he sticks largely to hopping and he will knock a lot off 10 seconds in the 100 if he specializes in that."

THE truth of the first part of that prophecy is common knowledge. What of the last? That will come true too when Ed settles down to run the sprints after he has proved a bit more conclusively that nobody in the world can jump with him. Watch him in the next few years and you will see a record breaker in the 100 or 220 or both. He's got it in him, if he will let it out.

HUGGINS SELECTS ALL-TIME MYTHICAL BASEBALL TEAM

Hammond, head of the garden since the death of Tex Rickard, brokered the Garden youngster who knocked out Johnny Risko last Friday night into a corner and came out of the clinch with Schmeling's signature on a contract giving the garden exclusive rights to the fighter's services for two years. If Schmeling wins the heavyweight championship in the near future, he is expected to defend the title for Hammond.

Under terms of the contract, which included financial guarantees that were not revealed, Schmeling will box only in either New York or Boston gardens or in outdoor shows promoted by the corporation in other cities. The outcome reproduction in looks and action of Jack Dempsey may fight for other promoters, but only with the consent of the garden.

With the signing of the contract, Schmeling prepared to sail for Germany February 13 for a vaudeville tour. While in his homeland, Max is expected to fight the mortgage on the famous home of the German giant, who received for annihilating Risko in nine rounds. He will return to America in April for a series of outdoor shows which Hammond believed would lead to a title match with Jack Dempsey.

Schmeling agreed to terms after Hammond obtained a release from a contract the German giant signed for a match in the Boston garden against Con O'Kelly, Irish heavyweight, February 15. Schmeling will fill the Boston date upon his return from Germany.

Boy of 9 Years Wins Ski Jump

Racine, Wis., February 4.—(AP)—A nine-year-old ski jumper, Stanley Zarebski, of Ironwood, Mich., who was too small to carry his skis to the top of the Racine Ski club's slide, jumped 72 feet and 62 feet to take first place in the tournament here yesterday before about 15,000 persons.

U.S. Davis Cup Team To Play Canada First In Title Bout

Japan Will Meet Winner; Cuba and Mexico Also Enter American Zone.

Paris, February 4.—(AP)—With representatives of the diplomatic missions in the 29 nations entered in the 1929 Davis cup tennis competition present, the draw was held today. Ambassador Heric was among the diplomats in the beautiful XV ball room of the ministry of public instruction when the names of the countries were drawn.

United States vs. Canada was the first result of the drawing and these teams will meet in the first round of the American zone. Japan drew a bye in the first round and if the United States wins from Canada Japan will be the next opponent. The victor in this contest will oppose the winner of a match between Cuba and Mexico.

Ten-four nations elected to try their luck in the European zone. The entry of Chile was accepted, although it was 48 hours late. It was ruled today that the second round between the United States and Canada would be concluded before May 8. This decision will present a problem for tennis authorities in the United States and Canada. The first round between the United States and its dominion neighbor probably cannot be played in April in Canada. Last year the United States and Canada played a Davis cup tennis arrangement presenting a very simple problem. The Davis cup candidates practiced at Augusta, Ga., in May and June, and then sailed to Europe to dispose of the first round early in April.

Italy, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Spain are the favorites in the European zone while close observers of tennis here believe the United States is certain to win the American zone, with or without the services of Bill Tilden.

THE map and the government statistics showed Toledo to be nearest the center. More people could go there with less distance to cover than to any other place in the United States. The actual population of Toledo was not a big factor in our calculations. The big majority of people, we felt sure, would come from outside places. It was certainly more accessible to New York fans, for instance, than San Francisco or Reno would have been. It was also just a few hours' ride from any place in the middlewest.

Having arrived at that conclusion, I took the plunge. The erection of the arena cost me $120,000. But the people did not come—not in great numbers.

I guess I didn't size it up right. There were no hard times then, and that cannot be given as an excuse. Everybody had plenty of money and was eager to spend it.

I built the arena large enough to seat 80,000 people in a pinch, and expected 50,000. When the big day arrived we had but 19,000 spectators, and there were great rows of empty seats.

Our receipts in money amounted to $452,000, less than half what I had expected. Come to think of it, that is the worst record I have in New York, at that, when we consider the population of the immediate surroundings.

Hot July 4.—On the morning of the fight hundreds of newspapermen were in the ringside seats as early as 9 o'clock. The heat was so intense that some of them almost collapsed. There was a constant procession of boys carrying them away. Before the time for the fight many of them had raised umbrellas to escape the burning sun. This furnished an unusual scene at a prize fight.

As I said in my last article, I really felt sorry for Dempsey when I met him for the first time. He looked so small that it seemed impossible for him to win. When I saw him in training, though, I changed my opinion. Though rather small, he was as lithe as a panther. Still, I had doubts that he could win.

Many others felt sorry for Dempsey, but I was not one of them. I knew those who knew him personally. I had a lot of fans wanted to see him win; but doubted that he could do it. This furnished an unusual scene at a prize fight.

Dempsey Wins From Willard In Title Bout

Richard Tells How Jack Leaped From Corner and Downed Champion.

This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared by Rickard with the assistance of a publisher for publication exclusively for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Rickard plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following in the twenty-fourth instalment of this autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.

BY TEN RICHARD.

To this day I am unable to understand just why the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo, Ohio, on July 4, 1919, was not a bigger financial success. I figured it out carefully before, and I have tried to figure it out impersonally since. As yet, I see no definite reason for the comparatively small attendance.

In staging the fight my mind was definitely set on prize money. We had all sorts of offers. In my own mind, I had decided that the proper place to hold a big championship fight was the center of population of the United States, or as near to it as we could get. I got the government census report and the railroad maps. I laid these things out. I still had in mind the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno. At that time I had insisted on getting nearer to the center of population.

Toledo Near Center.—The map and the government statistics showed Toledo to be nearest the center. More people could go there with less distance to cover than to any other place in the United States. SANDLOTTER TO RAJAH Rogers Hornsby's Own Story On His Rise To Fame.

BY ROGERS HORNSBY.

Rogers Hornsby is one of baseball's famous figures. Next season he will be seen in a Chicago Cubs uniform, at second base. His salary, it is said, will exceed $50,000 a year. Hornsby writes here, for the first time, his own story of his remarkable climb from the sandlots to big league stardom. The story following is the twelfth of the series.

(Written Exclusively for The Constitution and The North American Newspaper Alliance.)

(Copyright, 1929, by "The North American Newspaper Alliance.") After winning the world's championship you might think a fellow would be happy and contented and feel assured of the future. But my experience following the "victory" of the Cardinals over the Yankees in 1926 was the opposite.

When I think now of all the things that happened after that achievement, I wonder I didn't quit baseball in disgust. I guess the reason I'm still in the game is because my love for it makes me forget my troubles as soon as I get into a uniform and out on the field.

Here I was, after that big season, with my money invested in the St. Louis club, no contract for the following year, and the president of the club against me for no reason I knew about.

Wants Long Contract.—The situation perhaps made me a bit hard-boiled. Anyway, I made up my mind right there that when I was called in to talk over a new contract I would demand one for three years, to protect my interest in the club. Also, I decided that they would have to pay me a lot of money. I had won the pennant, the first one St. Louis had had in 38 years, and the club had made a big profit. I felt I had something coming to me.

It was some time after the world series before the new contract came up. By then, Sam Breaden, the president, was talking to me again. But he wasn't the same as we had been at the start of the 1926 season. We got nowhere at our first conference. I told him I wanted a three-year contract and I named an amount of money that was pretty big. He gave me no encouragement.

Offered Year's Contract.—Later we came together again. I wanted the thing settled. I was open for discussion on the salary, but I was insistent on the contract being for three years.

"I'll give you nothing but a one-year contract," Breaden informed me, with decision. And then he hinted at trading me.

I didn't want to leave St. Louis. I had resolved to make my home there, and I wanted to stay with the Cardinals. I had my money invested in the club and it looked like a good investment. We had just won a world's championship and had a fine club. I was against me. I realized that it wouldn't be so bad to be traded, especially to New York, and I moved right away that I would be New York. For I knew McGraw had wanted me before.

"You have the right to trade me if you feel that way about it," I said to Breaden. "I guess there are some clubs that would be willing to take me and give me the money, and give me three years."

He wouldn't discuss the matter with me. He was firm on a one-year contract. I think he would have paid me $50,000 if I had agreed to the one year. But I was determined. I was just as firm as he, and see what would happen.

I could scarcely conceive of his trading me to some other club. I knew the fans in St. Louis were strong for me, and that there would be a loud roar if Breaden got rid of me. I just thought I would let him know I really didn't believe he would have the nerve to get rid of me.

Thought Breaden Kidding.—But in that I was mistaken. It was about the middle of December when Breaden called in the newspaper man and gave them the startling piece of news that I had been traded to the New York Giants for $100,000. They thought he was kidding. They wouldn't believe it. They simply couldn't think he would have the nerve to let me go. They knew I was popular with the fans.

But the announcement was made, and it was true. It was indeed a shock to me, and I wasn't greatly surprised. But I wondered what would be done about my stock in the Cardinals. I would have hardly had time to get my stock in one club and play with another. I asked Breaden what would be done about it.

"Oh, well, take that off your hands," he answered, but he told me then that there might be trouble over it. The stock, I knew, was worth a lot more than when I had bought it early in 1925. I felt that I had done a lot to make it worth more. I felt that I was entitled to a big price for it. But the stock question wasn't settled then.

The Baffle Stories

The Huppenheimer Museum Robbery

NUMBER 30.

One Sunday morning, soon after the great Huppenheimer Museum of Pittsburg had opened its doors for the day, a guard on the second floor was startled by a ponderous clank from a corridor in the Egyptian wing. Thinking that a statue had fallen he rushed in the direction of the sound. Instead he saw a man, who was struggling to replace the heavy lid of a sarcophagus, suddenly let go of the lid and dart away. The guard seized his coat collar, but the fugitive squirmed from his coat, dodged behind an exhibit case, and vanished. When the breathless guard arrived downstairs at the front door he found that the intruder had walked out quietly and was lost from sight. The doorman had supposed him a workman of the museum and had thought nothing of his departure.

This event brought to the attention of the authorities the singular incident of the museum robbery which resulted in the great scandal of 1924. Detective Wagner, who was assigned to the case, later summarized the affair as follows:

"I arrived at the museum Monday morning and was ushered into the office of Director Oddie, who had the captured coat and a chair beside him. The doctor told me of the coat incident and then said:

"I am sorry to say that this means a clever attempt at a serious robbery. This fellow to whom the coat belongs had undoubtedly managed to stay in the museum overnight. Investigation revealed that our case No. 12 had been robbed of its contents in a most ingenious manner. But, fortunately, the thief had been badly fooled. What he was after, of course, was the Kurik gem collection which Mr. Huppenheimer purchased only last year. What he got was the set of paste replicas which we always keep in the exhibit case except upon occasions when distinguished persons visit us. The real gems are then taken from a safe and temporarily installed in the case. Now, this fellow had cunningly prepared a dummy set of the gems, in their distinctive settings, and had managed to insert them in the case when he extracted what he thought were the real jewels."

"In short, we have played an $80,000 joke on the robber. At the same time, I shudder at the ease with which the fellow did his work. It is of the utmost importance, of course, that we track the man down."

"This may not be so hard as you think," Dr. Oddie continued, "for I learn this morning from Curator Waltham, of the section of antique jewels, that the owner of the coat has probably been in the museum frequently in the last few weeks. Three weeks ago tomorrow a man representing himself as Antonio Diaz, a designer of jewelry, applied for permission to make drawings of the Kurik pieces. The copying of designs by the public, you know, is a regular thing with us. We encourage it to aid all the industrial arts and handicrafts. Persons have frequently copied the Kurik designs. They have to do this through the glass of the case, using a magnifying glass."

"Our guard is always near the case in the daytime. The thief could not have taken the screens out of the case except by night. This he did, removing the paste replicas and substituting the fake pieces which he had made. As you will see, the dummy set is cleverly made. The fellow had not spent his days of copying for nothing. He hoped, of course, to make his way out of the museum in the morning with what he thought was the real set, leaving his dummy set to lull us into continued security."

"Indeed, had he not replaced several of the screws crookedly, I doubt if we would have noticed which case had been tampered with. Our night watchman makes the rounds every half hour; the thief must have been hurried as he was finishing his task of screwing up the side of the case. The culprit, I take it, must have hidden in the sarcophagus during the early hours of light Sunday morning, while waiting for the doors to open. He would have escaped without leaving any clue whatever if the guard in the Egyptian wing had not seen him. Probably while climbing out of the sarcophagus the lid slipped from his grasp. Now the question is: what does this coat tell you?"

"And Dr. Oddie handed it to me. I examined the coat and the contents of its pockets, but had to confess to Dr. Oddie that I could make nothing of it. It was an ordinary brown coat of cheviot, well worn. There was no label or identifying mark of any kind. The right-hand pocket yielded a cheap screwdriver and a piece of white string. In the left-hand pocket we found a small smelter, some rubber bands, and a package of wintergreen drops. In the upper left-hand pocket (outside breast) I found two stubs of tickets to a large New York movie theater very much frayed, and a bit of white paper about three inches by one. This was not soiled or frayed, as were the ticket stubs. I judged that it was a portion of a roll from an adding machine, for it had printed on it a column of numbers, as if someone had started to add a series of checks or amount of money. No total, however, was given. It ran thus:

23.13
27.18
15.15
70.22
8.23
26.28
79.18
10.22
8.12
12.13

"I was about to request Dr. Oddie to take me to case No. 12 for a search for fingerprints when the door of the office burst open and a tall, elderly man rushed in on us in the greatest excitement."

"'Doctor!' he cried, 'we have been robbed. It is terrible! The pieces in the safe are not the originals! A terrible mistake must have been made, and the thief has taken the real gems.' 'It was Curator Waltham, who had just come from the safe where the real jewels supposedly were resting. Dr. Oddie and I were staggered at this turn of events. We hastily piled the curator for details."

"Three weeks ago to the day, Curator Waltham said, he personally had removed the real gems from the safe and examined them carefully in anticipation of their exhibit to the Prince of Wales, who was to visit the museum that noon. To make sure that he had directed Assistant Curator Raymond to remove the replicas from the case (No. 12) and keep them in his desk."

"The curator testified in the most absolute way that he personally had carried the real gems to the case and had himself installed them there. He remained while the guards locked the case before his eyes, and stood directly by the case awaiting the reception committee and the prince."

"Only the curator had the key to the lock. He was prepared, if the prince expressed a desire to handle the famous pieces, to remove them himself and hand them to the prince. However, the visit was hurried, and the prince did not make the request. At the subsequent events Curator Waltham said:

"I remember distinctly that after the prince left, I left Assistant Curator Raymond in charge to remove the true pieces and put them securely away in the safe, for I was compelled to join the committee accompanying His Highness for the rest of the tour through the museum. I cannot say that I saw Raymond do it, but I am certain of his honor and integrity as I am of my own. He reported to me only an hour later that he had done so, and that the paste replicas had been restored to case No. 12."

"Yet Raymond is so careful, it seems impossible that he could have made any mistake about this. I confess that I am inclined to the belief that this thief whose coat was captured in some way must have obtained the combination of the safe and stolen the real pieces from it, also robbing the case of the replicas and putting them in the safe. Thus he hoped that a long time would elapse before the fraud would be discovered in either safe or exhibit case, since our replicas would be in the safe and his dummy set in the case. That would give him more time to sell them without an alarm being spread."

"Dr. Oddie confirmed in the most positive manner his complete trust in both the curator and the assistant curator. He added that he agreed with Curator Waltham's theory. However, they placed the investigation entirely in my hands and were good enough to express the fullest confidence in me."

"Our first step was to telegraph Mr. Raymond, the assistant curator, recalling him immediately from an emergency mission to the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, on which he had been sent the Friday before. Within a few hours Raymond had arrived that he was starting back at once."

"In the meantime I made a searching investigation among this Raymond's friends, and found that he bore a reputation for good character and devotion to the museum. He arrived the next day."

"I would describe him as a scholar, appearing young man in his early thirties, with a frank, open countenance, though highly nervous in his manner. He appeared to be greatly shocked at what had taken place, immediately offered to resign, and courted the fullest investigation."

"He told us convincingly that he

New York, February 4.—(AP)—

The cotton market was lower today in response to relatively new Liverpool pool cables. There were also complaints of poor spot demand, which may have influenced later trading. May contracts sold off to 19.65, net decline of 22 points, and closed at that figure. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 20 to 24 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 6 to 12 points under selling on the relatively easy showing of 1 Liverpool. After showing net declines of about 10 to 15 points, prices steadied up from the lowest on buying and covering. The bulks of 7 or 8 points net renewed liquidation and the market weakened again in the afternoon.

In addition to liquidation of long contracts, there was local and southern selling on the decline, which carried March off to 19.50 and new October contracts to 19.04 in late trading. The close was at the lowest prices of the day on new positions. Buying on an early decline may have been encouraged by reports of better prospects for a settlement of the dispute over oil and claims of machinery in Lancashire without suspension of mill activity. This report, however, seemed to be offset by other reports that southern cotton in Lancashire were considering curtailment of production and complaints of disappointing demand for cotton cloth from India and China.

A private report saying that it was still too early for a definite estimate but that prospects pointed to an increase of the day on new positions.

Agreement came in for no general comment as a market factor. Attention seemed to center on the less favorable reports from Liverpool and China, which during the early trading. Later there was talk of disappointing spot demand and easier basis on some kinds of cotton.

Private cables reported continental and Bombay liquidation in Liverpool and said that the market for Egyptian cotton there had declined. Selling was reported from Alexandria. Some southern selling was reported on the decline here but much of the pressure was attributed to further liquidation and some stop orders were unheeded.

Exports today 40,711, making 5,738,001 this season. Port receipts 19,523. U. S. port stocks 2,819,454.

MARKET AT CLOSE

OFF 18 TO 21 POINTS.

New Orleans, February 4.—(AP)—

Declines of slightly more than 11 a bale followed moderate selling in the cotton market today and although sufficient trading buying on scale down orders declined from time to time and rallied prices a few points the market was on the down side for practically the entire session. The lows of the day were reached in final trading when May contracts sold at 19.02, or 21 points down, and the market closed at net losses of 18 to 21 points.

Liverpool cables were lower than due at the start here and first trades showed declines of 6 to 8 points. Prices continued to ease off during the morning under selling stimulated by a private report that the government were up to the average for this period of the season, and although there was more or less trade buying on the scale down, March 95, off to 19.05, May 19.09, and July 19.08, or 14 to 15 points below Saturday's close.

There was a rally of 5 to 7 points from these figures, but when the demand was supplied a cable from Bombay, India, saying that mills there were closed down due to riots, brought out renewed selling, which carried prices to new lows for the day. March sold at 18.98 and May and July to 19.02, or 20 to 22 points net down. Final prices were 1 to 2 points above the lowest.

Reports from London of prospects for the peaceful settlement of labor disputes in Lancashire mills exerted little influence on the market, probably being offset by the shutdown in India and the favorable crop preparation report.

Receipts 18,703; for week 28,737; for year 7,990,141; last year 6,828,307. Exports 40,711; for week 6,830; for year 5,693,931; last year 4,811,768. Stocks 2,249,749; last year 2,655,083. Stock on shipment 122,888; last year 125,063. Spot sales 11,582; last year 12,593.

Dry Goods.

New York, February 4.—Cotton goods were easy today to gray cloth divisions following a further cotton decline at the opening of the week's markets. On finished goods demand for prints was unimportant. Other lines were more moderate. Raw cotton figures for January showed the latest decline in mills were recorded in a similar month. Cotton imported 13,000 bales. Printed goods were active. Buyers purchased wool goods on the market. More business was reported on wool dress fabric.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—

Stringent money and expectation of a large increase in stock exchange members' loans caused considerable profit-taking on the stock market today, depressing a number of recent favorites 2 to 6 points. Operations for the advance were carried on in an assortment of rails, industrials and specialties, however, and about two dozen were lifted to record levels.

The increase in stock exchange loans, announced at 11 o'clock, was the close of the market, amounted to $205,423,731, which was in line with what Wall Street expected. The stock exchange total as of January 31 was $6,735,161,242, an increase of about $2,300,000,000 in the past 12 months. The increase during January was about $1,000,000,000.

Although call money was expected to be a little easier this week, with the return of the February 1 payments to the banks, the rate again went to 10 percent, and a few corporations, about $200,000,000 New York banks money market for the month-end, and the rate again went to 10 percent.

Another drop in the Spanish peseta of about 1-2 of one cent to below 15 1-2 cents, reflecting further recovery of the peseta, was the only foreign exchange market. Sterling was firm.

Commodity markets were mixed in tone. Cotton sold off about 1 1/2 bales in response to a sag in the Alexandria market. Grains moved in a narrow range, wheat closing firm, and corn a little easier.
